Israel popular destination for Karnataka jobseekers

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THERE has been a surge in people from Karnataka opting to work in Israel this year, according to the Regional Passport Office (RPO) here.

The Israeli government approached India two months ago seeking 10,000 construction workers and 5,000 caregivers.

In November last, it was made public that Israel's construction sector was looking at hiring thousands of Indian workers to replace one lakh Palestinians. There has been a marked surge in requests from people of Karnataka for the Police Clearance Certificate Certificate (PCC), a mandatory requirement in many countries for jobs, according to RPO. P5

No proof of Modi link to Nijjar plot, clarifies Canada

Trudeau's security advisor trashes report that claimed Indian PM was in the loop

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE Justin Trudeau-led government on Friday sought to set the record straight as it trashed a Canadian media report, which claimed Prime Minister Narendra Modi was in the loop about the killing of Sikh separatist Hardeep Singh Nijjar in Canada.

On Wednesday, The Globe and Mail had put out a report quoting an anonymous Canadian security official linking Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, and National Security Advisor Ajit Doval to criminal activities in Canada.

"The Government of Canada has not stated, nor is it aware of evidence, linking Prime Minister Modi, Minister Jaishankar, or NSA Doval to the serious criminal activity within Canada. Any suggestion to the contrary is both speculative and inaccurate," read the statement issued by Nathalie G Drouin, national security and intelligence advisor to the Canadian PM.

Canada's denial of the newspaper report came after External Affairs Ministry called it out as a smear campaign. "Such ludicrous statements made to a newspaper purportedly by a Canadian government source should be dismissed with the contempt they deserve," India's foreign ministry had said.

Meanwhile, the diplomatic stalemate between India and Canada continues. The Indian Consulate in Toronto has issued a statement saying it had to cancel several consular camps as the Canadian authorities refused to provide adequate security.

"Due to continued inability conveyed by security agencies to provide minimum security against heightened threats, the Consulate has had to cancel some consular camps. Most of them were not at any places of worship, including one at a police facility," the Indian consulate in Toronto said.

WHAT THE PAPER SAID

Quoting an official, the paper said "it would be unthinkable that three senior political figures in India wouldn't have discussed the targeted killings with Modi before proceeding"

INDIA's foreign exchange (forex) reserves have seen the sharpest weekly dip on record, losing $17.76 billion for the week ended November 15 as the dollar continued to rally leading to immense pressure on the rupee, which forced the Reserve Bank of India to sell the greenback to stem the slide.

Forex reserves have slipped nearly $30 billion in the past seven weeks. The reserves are down $47 billion from the record high of $704.89 billion reported on September 27.

Traders said RBI intervention in the forex market repeatedly to save the rupee.

According to analysts, there was a revaluation loss estimated at $10.4 billion for the reporting week, and RBI may have sold dollars worth $7.2 billion in the week ended November 15.

Dilip Parmar, a senior currency research analyst at HDFC Securities, said that dollar demand from importers and continuing foreign funds outflows weigh on the rupee.

"The central bank has aggressively supplied the dollar to meet the demand and outflows to control volatility. There has been huge dollar demand from precious metal importers post-Diwali. The value of non-dollar assets also declined in the same period," he said.

"Despite the seven weeks of decline, we believe the forex reserves remain robust in terms of all external adequacy requirements with the import cover comfortably placed at over 11-months," said Aditi Gupta, an economist at Bank of Baroda, in a note.

Air India sets up training units for engineers

ENS @Bengaluru

AIR INDIA will be setting up a Basic Maintenance Training Organisation (BMTO) inside Bengaluru Airport City which will offer an integrated Aircraft Maintenance Engineering programme. It is set to become operational by mid-2026.

An official release said the integrated 2+2-year course will come up on a campus spread over 86,000 sqft. It has obtained clearance from the aviation regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation. "Air India has signed an agreement with Bengaluru Airport City Limited (BACL), a subsidiary of Bangalore International Airport Limited, to develop a build-to-suit facility for the AME programme that will feature modern classrooms, well-equipped laboratories for practical training and a team of qualified trainers," it said.

It will be housed close to Air India's new 12-bay Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) facility that will become operational in early 2026. Sunil Bhaskaran, director, Aviation Academy, Air India, said, "The Basic Maintenance Training Organization will establish a pipeline of skilled engineers trained to Air India standards from the outset. This facility and programme, combined with proximity to KIA, will enable our AME cadets to gain hands-on, real-world experience."

31 villages in KR Puram, Mahadevapura await Cauvery water supply

Underground rocks hindering pipeline work; project to be completed by early December

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE RECENT assurance by the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar regarding the supply of Cauvery water to 110 villages merged into Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has failed to meet the expectations of residents in several areas. While BWSSB promised that water would be supplied after the inauguration of Cauvery Stage-V on October 16, many of the 31 villages in KR Puram and Mahadevapura constituencies are still awaiting for the supply.

According to BWSSB officials, the delay is due to challenges in the pipeline work, particularly hard rock below the ground. Mahesh KN, Chief Engineer, Cauvery Stage-V, BWSSB, explained that underground rock was found at multiple places in the 180-metre stretch between Kudlu and Hoodi, which falls under the crucial Eastern Trunk of BWSSB's Cauvery Stage-V. "A 40-metre stretch of hard rock is proving especially challenging to cut through, and although work has been ongoing for two months, only about 6 metres remain. The project is expected to be completed by the end of November or early December, after which the pipeline will be fixed and the Ground Level Reservoir (GLR) at Hoodi will be filled, supplying water to 31 villages," he added.

In addition to the pipelin issues, BWSSB is also working on a new 40 MLD GLR at Kadugodi. However, many residents remain skeptical. They said they do not believe in the water board's assurance as it has failed its promises for delivery of service, particulary in areas like Ramamurthy Nagar, Horamavu, and surroundings areas. These neighbourhoods, despite having connections five years ago, residents still find their taps dry.

"For the last two years, the BWSSB, the local MLA and minister concerned have given many dates and months for Cauvery water connections to 110 villages but nothing happened so far," said Kochu Shankar, a resident of Ramamurthy Nagar. Echoing similar sentiments, another resident from Gunjur village in Mahadevapura said, the Cauvery Stage-V was inaugurated on October 16 but the water supply to several areas including Hagadur, Channdasandra, Panathur and Gunjur and surrounding villages in Mahadevapura will have to wait for at least till January 2025 due to the slow pace of work.

Complete works in Dasarahalli zone soon, BBMP chief to officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath instructed officials to clean the side drains on 24 important roads running up to 60 kms in the Dasarahalli zone within 60 days.

The BBMP chief, who visited the Dasarahalli zone on Friday as part of the 'Chief Commissioner's Walk towards Zone' programme, instructed there are 24 important roads in the zone and the side drains on these stretches should be cleared within 60 days.

Girinath said that agencies such as Bescom, BWSSB and others were cutting the roads for various works without the BBMP's permission. "They are also not restoring the roads which is leading to deterioration of road condition. Hence, I have instructed officials to apply for permission online before taking up works and complete them within the deadline and restore the roads after the work is done," he said, adding that tender will be floated soon to install LED lamps across the city.

Meanwhile, he said the Abbigere lake spread across 45 acres in the zone will be developed soon at a cost of Rs. 4.5 crore. "Works such as desilting, sewage diversion drain and bund construction have been completed. I have asked officials to complete pending works like fencing, construction of toilets, security room and entry gates."

He also assured that the compound wall of a graveyard on Abbigere Forest Road, which was removed due to road-widening work, will soon be reconstructed. Citizens brought to his notice about the illegal construction of a building in HMT Layout, dumping of garbage by the road, potholes in Kammagondanahalli and KG Halli, lack of street lamps, installation of gym equipment in parks, and others.

B'luru girl helps 1,500 students from 8 countries with financial literacy

Bengaluru: A 12th grade student in Bengaluru has helped over 1,500 students across eight countries learn about financial literacy through her Global Youth Economic Empowerment Program (GYEEP). This free online webinar series, created by Vedika P, focuses on teaching young people important financial skills like budgeting, saving, investing, and understanding entrepreneurship, filling a gap that many schools overlook. The GYEEP sessions, available on YouTube, were created and run entirely by Vedika who is an IB2 student (International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme) at Canadian International School. The programme brought together experts from around the world, including professors from Nile University in Egypt, economists from Lebanon, and educationists from India. These experts gave lectures, conducted workshops, and answered questions in live Q&A sessions. The initiative began in 2021 when Vedika recognized a gap in financial management and entrepreneurship education for students across countries. "I wanted to ensure students had access to knowledge about financial management and entrepreneurship, which are crucial for building a secure future, and that's how GYEEP started," she told TNIE. Originally aimed at students in grades 7 to 12, the programme's popularity grew quickly, attracting participants from a broader range of age groups, including adults. Vedika made the sessions accessible to students in different time zones, using data collected via Google forms. She also partnered with 16 Interact Clubs under Rotary International in different countries.

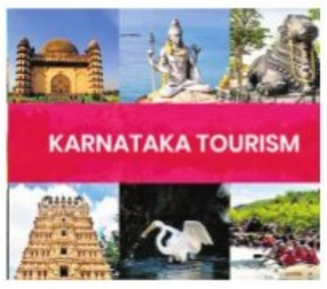
Tourism sector lacks local representation: Study

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

MOST tourist hotspots in Karnataka are facing a surprising gap in local representation, as many resorts and hotels lack even a single hospitality staff member from the state. Officials from the Institute of Hotel Management, Bengaluru (IHM-B) revealed this gap, encouraging students, specifically those based in Karnataka, to look beyond careers in IT and technology to explore the rich opportunities available within the state's hospitality sector.

The IHMB, an autonomous society under the Ministry of Tourism, Government of India, with its current batch of 253 students, predominantly has enrollees from Punjab, Delhi, and Kerala. Officials, while appreciating the inclusivity, have urged students from Karnataka to join such courses to showcase the state's rich flavours and unique cuisine on a global platform.

"In places like Sakleshpur, Coorg, and Madikeri, most resorts have hospitality and management staff from northern states, with not even a single staff member from Karnataka," Anjali Gopalakrishnan, Senior Lecturer at IHM Bengaluru, said. While diversity is welcome, food is a powerful connector, she emphasized, urging students to participate in the hospitality sector to take the state's culture and cuisine to other regions and countries, showcasing the distinct variety within Karnataka's culinary traditions.



Speaking about the institution, IHM and Regional Director (South), Ministry of Tourism D Venkatesan, highlighted the variety of courses offered by IHM, catering to students with different educational backgrounds.

He mentioned that the institution provides a program for students who have completed the 8th standard, along with a diploma in confectionery and bakery for those who have passed the 10th standard. Additionally, there are food production courses and a BSc degree in hospitality, allowing anyone passionate about cooking, hospitality, and management to develop their skills and learn the fundamentals of the industry.

The director emphasised the importance of students pursuing careers based on their interests and passions, urging them to explore the diverse opportunities within the hospitality industry.

He also pointed out that the perception of hospitality being limited to tasks like cleaning beds needs to be changed. Hospitality, he explained, offers a wide range of exciting and dynamic career paths, from culinary arts to hotel management, where students can engage in creative, strategic, and leadership roles. "It is essential to break the stereotypes and highlight the industry's vast potential for growth and innovation," he added.

BDA, POLICE LOCK HORNS DURING DEMOLITION OF 'ILLEGAL' BUILDING

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HIGH drama was witnessed at a three-storeyed house in OMBR Layout on Thursday, when the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) began demolishing the house. The police from Banaswadi who had come to offer support to the BDA Task Force and its engineers, turned against the demolition drive an hour later, when the family convinced them that there was a court stay against touching the property.

BDA and the police have different versions of the same incident. BDA sources told TNIE, "This house has been built illegally by Prabhakar Reddy and family. Our executive engineer and assistant executive engineer have already issued them three notices to stop the construction. They used to stop temporarily, and later, continue with the construction again."

Police stop the demolition of a house by BDA, which was in progress in OMBR Layout in Bengaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

Before the demolition, the property details were checked with the Law department. "The court stay is for another survey number within OMBR Layout. The family has been misguiding everyone saying the court stay is for their property."

BDA began the demolition the property at 8 am and had demolished the pillars and beams of the second floor. "We had already intimated the local police station two days ago. Cops ordered us to stop after some time but our staff refused to do so. There was stiff opposition from Reddy, his two sons and a few of their supporters, but we persisted. We have received permission from the Head Office to demolish the property." Finally, the ACP of Banaswadi, MH Uma Shankar, intervened and abused our engineers and forced us to stop it by 10.30 am, a source alleged.

Police sources told TNIE, "As soon as the demolition began, the family members approached us and showed us the court order which had issued a stay against BDA touching the property. BDA cannot do something illegal like this. Moreover, they told us that the BDA had not even intimated them in advance, about the demolition."

Nearly 20 percent of the demolition was completed. Despite repeated calls made to the engineers and the Task Force involved in the operation by the local police station, they did not answer the calls, the cops added. Finally the ACP intervened and stopped the demolition, they added.

PETER VIDAL

23RD November: Mars' relationship with Saturn is what is called a 'stop-go' aspect; active Mars creates a peak of energy, but serious Saturn blocks it. The result is that we'll all meet unexpected obstacles, but they can be removed with extra effort and hard work. The last thing to do is to give up and walk away.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The chances are very strong that those of you with busy professional schedules will be working this weekend. Other Ariens will be kept active pursuing ambitious worldly schemes. But remember, whatever you're doing, it works best if you have a genuine passion for it.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Hopefully you have had the opportunity to revise arrangements affecting children. You may also have been able to re-establish social or romantic connections which had been broken or postponed. The essence of the current moment is to establish absolutely equal, honest and open relationships.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You can pre-empt imminent planetary movements and make an effort to form new relationships. From this weekend onwards, partnership and teamwork will be the main consideration at work and in your personal affairs. Actually, the most important people could turn out to be those you have known for a long time.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
If you're following precise planetary patterns, now is the time to make formal arrangements, but also to break out and abandon your commitments. Romantic illusions may be nothing more than harmless fun. In other words, the possibilities are various, the options many.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
This is a superb day for local jaunts or country trips. You should now be free of the pressures that have made travel such a risky business over the past few days. You may afford to be more confident in personal matters, perhaps because other people are now more open to your brand of doing things.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Although you would still be advised against any temptation to indulge in speculation, you may now begin to plan sensible domestic spending. Those of you involved in property deals may look forward to better conditions some way down the line - perhaps sooner than you think.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Sun and Mars, those two ambitious and energetic planets, are still your faithful allies. Aim as high as you wish now, because until you try, there is no knowing what can be achieved. The first step is to gather information, so that you find out what other people are up to.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The reason why partners or close associates have been so off-hand and un-co-operative is still far from clear. However, in the financial area you will now find it much easier to reach some sort of consensus. You'll be keeping your plans to yourself for awhile, so watch your tongue.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Because the planets are constantly on the move, no one situation ever lasts for too long. The planetary configuration is now improving, and you will be the first to feel the refreshing winds of change. Social and team enterprises benefit first.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Neither adverse planetary aspects nor your sober Capricornian nature should be allowed to dampen the current enthusiasm for life. However, in some way, professional concerns are likely to intrude on the weekend. They may concern partners or relations, but you'll still have your say.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Now that goodwill is returning, you may receive appreciation for your worthwhile efforts on other people's behalf. You may, if you wish, announce to the world your intentions for the future. You seem to be prepared to make the most of yourself for once.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You must expect a certain amount of family controversy. There is, after all, no reason why people should accept what you say at face value. You must make the effort to explain yourself. I know you think everyone can read your mind, but you'd do better to set out your case as carefully as you can.

SDA death: Cops question tahsildar about deleted msgs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

FOR the first time after the suicide of SDA Rudresh Yadavannavar at the Belagavi tahsildar's office three weeks ago, the police have interrogated the accused, tahsildar Basavaraj Nagaral, minister's PA Somu Doddwadi and FDA Ashok Kabbaliger.

Besides a string of questions over the incident of suicide, the police mainly wanted to know from the tahsildar as to why he deleted the messages shared by Yadavannavar in the official group, that he was committing suicide, hours before he died.

The investigating team asked the tahsildar as to why he deleted Yadavannavar's message, that he had sent hours before his death, and why he had not gotten in touch with the latter to stop him from taking the extreme step.

Among the few messages which Yadavannavar had shared before his death, he had held the tahsildar, Somu and Kabbaliger responsible for his suicide, and had called upon his colleagues to unitedly fight for justice in the office.

The police asked the tahsildar why he did not call Yadavannavar and tried to convince him against ending his life. The police felt that Yadavannavar could have been stopped from taking the extreme step.

Recently, the police officials and several other top government authorities had received an anonymous letter, claiming that some one had murdered Yadavannvar and that he had not commit suicide, giving a new twist to the entire case. The letter had claimed that the tahsildar's driver had killed Yadavannvar.

It has since come to light that the driver was actually a Gram Sevak in Badal Ankagi village, but was made to work as the tahsildar's driver. Despite drawing the salary of a Gram Sevak, he was working as the tahsildar's driver for the past 15 years. Badal Ankalgi villagers have been wondering how he could work as the driver.

It may be recalled the police had not arrested the three accused, including the tahsildar in the suicide case for several days and eventually all of them were able to get anticipatory bail from the local court. A day after getting the anticipatory bail, the tahsildar had even rejoined his duty.

Several BJP leaders had demanded the immediate arrest of all the accused.

3 honey-trap married man, extort ₹2.25 cr from him, arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THREE individuals, including a 38-year-old woman have been arrested by the Central Crime Branch (CCB) sleuths for honey-trapping and extorting Rs 2.25 crore from a 46-year-old man who works as the head of the Research and Development section of a multi-national company. The victim, a married man with two children and a PhD in Structural Engineering from Indian Institute of Science (IISc), became the target of a blackmail scheme that spanned over five years.

The victim, who resides in Gokul Extension met the woman, Thabsum Begum (38), at a gym in RT Nagar, where her brother was the owner. Initially, the victim refused to pursue a relationship as he was married, but eventually succumbed to her advances. They engaged in a physical relationship, after which Begum began blackmailing him with their private videos and photographs.

She along with her brother Azeem Uddin (41) and Abhishek alias Avinash (33), who posed as a police officer extorted money from the victim for five years under the threat of leaking his private photographs and videos. Besides, Begum also threatened to file false rape charges against him and warned him of committing a suicide and writing his name in the death note. The victim, who initially feared approaching the authorities, withdrew his provident fund savings and borrowed money from banks and friends to meet their demands. Besides, he also paid a monthly instalment of Rs 1.25 lakh to the accused. However, when the demands for money increased, the victim finally knocked on the doors of the CCB on Monday.

Based on his complaint, the CCB sleuths arrested Begum, Azeem, and Abhishek. The victim also filed a complaint against another person identified as Anand, who claimed to be an advocate.

In his complaint, the victim stated that the extortion began when Begum, after gaining the victim's trust, manipulated him into believing that she was pursuing her higher education, which delayed her marriage. She also claimed to have adopted a child to avoid getting married. When the victim realised that she was already married and had a son, Begum began blackmailing him, threatening to release their private videos and photographs. Azeem reportedly threatened the victim to either marry his sister or continue paying money, or he would approach the media. A case of extortion (IPC 384), cheating (IPC 420) and criminal intimidation (IPC 506) has been registered against the accused. Further investigations are on.

Outrage over post on Army chiefs, FIR registered

ENS @ Bengaluru

A surge of indignation has swept across retired and serving defence personnel and Coorg community members, following an offensive social media post about two of India's most respected Army chiefs, Field Marshal KM Cariappa, who served as Commander-in-Chief, and General K S Thimayya, who served as India's Army Chief.

The accused, Srivatsa B, allegedly shared the offensive comments on social media. In a formal complaint, the Kodava community lodged an FIR with Bengaluru police at RT Nagar and RR Nagar police stations. The FIR was filed under Section 192 and 352 of BNS for fabricating evidence and provocation, and criminal force against a person.

"It is unacceptable," Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar stated, and urged police to use the force of law to deal with the issue. He said Field Marshal Cariappa and General Thimayya are national heroes and we need to respect the country's veterans.

BYPOLL RESULTS TODAY; STAKES HIGH FOR CM, HDK, BYV

Despite exit polls predicting one seat each for Cong, BJP and JDS, Siddu and BYV say their parties will win all three

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

RESULTS of byelections to the Legislative Assembly from Sandur, Shiggaon and Channapanta constituencies, which will be declared on Saturday, are unlikely to have any drastic impact on the ruling Congress in the state as it has 136 MLAs.

However, the stakes are high for Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his deputy DK Shivakumar, JDS leader and Union minister HD Kumaraswamy and BJP state president BY Vijayendra.

Counting of votes will start at 8 am and the results will be out by noon. Despite exit polls and political analysts predicting one seat each for Congress, BJP and JDS, Siddaramaiah and Vijayendra have asserted that their parties will win all three. A whitewash for Congress or NDA will certainly be a setback for them, but that is unlikely to happen, according to analysts.

The poll outcome in Channapatna will decide the political future of former prime minister HD Deve Gowda's grandson Nikhil Kumaraswamy, who lost two back to back polls. If he wins this time, it will help him emerge as a youth icon of JDS and also of a section of the Vokkaliga community in the Old Mysore region.

His opponent CP Yogeshwara of Congress, who is also seeking a political comeback after two consecutive defeats in Channapatna, has predicted that it will be a photo finish. Whether the sympathy factor will work for Nikhil or Housing Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan's alleged racist remarks against Kumaraswamy dent the prospects of Yogeshwar will be known on Saturday.

The stakes are high for Shivakumar as he waged a proxy war against Kumaraswamy to win over Vokkaliga voters. Given the intensity of the contest, betting was rampant with even Nikhil advising his supporters against it.

It is a battle of prestige in Shiggaon for former CM and Haveri MP Basavaraj Bommai as his son Bharat Bommai is in the fray as a BJP candidate. He made his political debut here after his father vacated the seat after winning the Lok Sabha elections. Congress has fielded Yasir Ahmed Khan Pathan.

Congress seems to have an edge in Sandur, which was held by E Tukaram, according to analysts. He vacated the seat after he won the Lok Sabha elections from Ballari. Tukaram's wife E Annapoorna is contesting against BJP's Bangaru Hanumanthu here.

Silent voters hold the key in Channapatna, shows survey

A post-poll study conducted by noted psephologist Prof Sandeep Shastri, Veena Devi and Nagesh KL for Centre for Policy and Governance Studies at NMIT, Bengaluru, and Lokniti-CSDS, predicted that about one-fourth voters, who did not disclose their preference of candidates, will decide the fate of the candidates in Channapatna.

A random sampling of 502 voters from 20 polling stations with at least 25 respondents each was done. It revealed that a little over one-fourth (27%) of voters did not disclose their choice of candidates. Among those who declared their choice, Congress had an 11 percentage point lead over the JDS candidate representing the NDA (42 to 31%). Vokkaliga respondents formed close to half of the samples (48%) and one-fourth (24%) of them stated that they voted for Congress. About 51% indicated that they voted for the JDS (NDA) candidate. Remaining 25% of voters did not disclose to whom they voted and they hold the key.

According to the study, Congress appeared to have done better among voters from non-Vokkaliga OBC, SC and Muslim communities. JDS had a slight edge over its rival among young voters, while middle-aged voters preferred Congress. Votes of the elderly people were more or less evenly distributed, the study stated.

CM wants Adani arrested, says bizman is protected

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah has demanded the immediate arrest of business tycoon Gautam Adani, who the United States has indicted for bribing officials in India and misleading US investors. Speaking to the media here, he questioned the delay in Adani's arrest, even after an arrest warrant was issued, and wanted to know who was preventing his arrest. Asked whether Adani's arrest warrant has tarnished the image of the country, he said the nation knows who is protecting Adani and wanted the media to tell the people.

The Central government has betrayed Karnataka's farmers by cutting 58 per cent of NABARD grants given in the form of loans to farmers at 4.5 per cent interest, Siddaramaiah said. The cut in grant from NABARD will compel the state to go to commercial banks, and pay a high rate of 10 to 12 per cent interest.

He said they have appealed to Union Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, a Rajya Sabha member from Karnataka, to look into their plea and set right the anomaly by allocating Rs 9,000 crore grant to the state.

He also criticised Union Minister Pralhad Joshi for defending the Centre's 58 per cent cut in grant from NABARD, and questioned the silence of Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy, who claims to work for farmers' cause.

Siddaramaiah said the government is firm on cancelling BPL cards of income tax payees and government employees. He said the norms for BPL cards were formulated by the previous BJP government, and that the Centre had cancelled BPL cards but is protesting cancellation of cards in Karnataka.

Recalling that BJP leader Murli Manohar Joshi opposed the UPA government's Food Security Act and had called it the 'Vote Security Act'. It was the Congress that introduced the 7kg rice scheme which former CM BS Yediyurappa had reduced to 5kg. He accused the BJP of misleading people and making baseless charges against the Congress government when they increased rice quantity from 5kg to 10kg.

CM may face pressure for cabinet rejig

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

PRESSURE is likely to mount on Chief Minister Siddaramaiah with regard to a reshuffle of the cabinet, with a dozen aspirants staking claim to portfolios, since they feel they deserve it. With Siddaramaiah himself facing a setback amid the ongoing MUDA scam case, and some of his cabinet colleagues too alleged to be involved in scams, the aspirants seem hopeful, sources said.

Siddaramaiah also wants to go for a cabinet rejig after the winter session of the Legislature, slated to be held in Belagavi from December 9, sources said. The strategy is to put a lid on 'change in guard' speculation within the party, and also from the Opposition, so as to firmly establish his authority, political analysts said.

With Malavalli MLA PM Narendraswamy and Belagavi Uttar MLA Asif Sait openly expressing their desire to become ministers, Siddaramaiah and the Congress high command seem to be in a fix. Narendraswamy called on AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge on Thursday, and staked his claim, sources revealed. On Friday, senior leader and the state's special representative in New Delhi, TB Jayachandra, also met Kharge.

The party high command too was unhappy with certain ministers in the Siddaramaiah cabinet, over their lacklustre performance. Some of them reportedly include Excise Minister RB Thimmapur, who may be dropped or given a different portfolio as part of the reshuffle. Food and Civil Supplies Minister KH Muniyappa may seek the revenue portfolio, when the reshuffle takes place, a source informed The New Indian Express.

Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa, Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna, Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar, Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa, Planning and Statistics Minister D Sudhakar, were among those in the hit list, sources added.

It is to be seen whether Siddaramaiah will reinduct former tribal welfare minister B Nagendra into the cabinet, ahead of the session. Nagendra had resigned after a multi-crore scam surfaced in the Maharshi Valmiki ST Development Corporation. The ED and SIT are probing the case.

'Govt should apologise for not fulfilling guarantees'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP state president BY Vijayendra criticised the Congress government over its alleged attempts to reduce the number of BPL card-holders, thus trying to clip the number of beneficiaries to its guarantee schemes. "The state government is making an attempt to save money since these cards are also tagged to Gruhalakshmi and Anna Bhagya schemes," he said, demanding that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah confess about the government's inability to fulfil the promised guarantees.

Speaking to reporters in New Delhi on Friday, Vijayendra said the Congress has failed to implement the guarantees. "We are not against removing ineligible beneficiaries of BPL cards. But the government is making lame excuses and has cancelled lakhs of BPL cards," he alleged, pointing out that if a BPL card is cancelled, the required funds allocated to the Gruhalakshmi scheme and the Anna Bhagya scheme will be saved. In doing so, the state government intends to save crores of rupees.

Further, Vijayendra said ever since the Congress government was elected to office, a series of scams have surfaced, including the MUDA site scam, one at the Valmiki ST Development Corporation, and the liquor scam, among other issues. "The CM is trying to hide and hand over these cases to agencies that will help the state government come out clean. He should have resigned taking moral responsibility. But he is misusing his power," he alleged.

Vijayendra further alleged that Siddaramaiah has become helpless in mobilising funds, because of which, the government is making attempts to reduce the number of beneficiaries to guarantee schemes. Also, the government has not given the allowance of over Rs 1,000 crore to farmers. "The Kisan Samman scheme initiated during CM BS Yediyurappa's tenure to farmers has been stopped," he said.

Speaking about Congress MLAs' allegations that the Opposition BJP tried to bribe them into jumping ship, Vijayendra said their party is not interested in damaging, or seeing the Congress government's downfall. "But the behaviour of Congress leaders is making its own MLAs revolt against their party. This is because they are unable to take up development works for want of funds," he said, adding that ministers and MLAs have lost trust in Siddaramaiah.

BJP INITIATES 'OUR LAND, OUR RIGHT' PROTEST ACROSS STATE

LoP R Ashoka speaks during a protest, as Union minister Shobha Karandlaje looks on, at Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Friday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

BENGALURU: BJP Karnataka members initiated the 'Namma Bhoomi Namma Hakku' (our land, our right) campaign, where they are protesting across the state against the Waqf Board for its alleged takeover of farmers' lands. The protest was attended by Union minister Shobha Karandlaje, Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka, and others. Speaking at the protest, Ashoka said the people in the state are revolting against the state government following the notices issued by the Waqf Board, but Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is silent. "It has become a casual issue for them to snatch away lands of small farmers," he said. "The government is denying it. If that is the case, why are farmers, mutts, and people coming out to protest. Ever since the Congress came to power, it is busy appeasing the minority community," he alleged, adding that anti-social activities have also increased. Naxal activities, which were under control during BJP's rule, is back in Karnataka. "With the Congress in power, for those who indulge in Naxal activities and 'Love Jihad', it is like a 'feast'. At Srirangapatna in Mandya district, the Waqf Board has staked claim over a 400-year-old temple," he alleged. Shobha said that prior to the Independence, there were only 10,000 Waqf properties, which has now increased to 9.5 lakh. ENS

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman at the 8th India Ideas Conclave "Building Brand Bharat" in Bengaluru on Friday | PTI

JUST LIKE U.S. FDA, WE MUST HAVE OUR BHARAT FDA: FM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday said that, like the US FDA (Food and Drug Administration), India must have a Bharat FDA of global standards.

Speaking at the inaugural session of the 8th India Ideas Conclave "Building Brand Bharat", organised by India Foundation in Bengaluru, Sitharaman said, "Just like the US FDA, we must have our Bharat FDA of global standards."

India is setting standards in pharmaceuticals. Can we in India not have a Bharat FDA? Food and Drug Administration, which can give global standards of benchmarks. If you reach that benchmark, your pharmaceutical products are going to be good enough or even unsurpassed. We need to focus on those sorts of things," she said.

She said people outside India are willing to recognise that brand of India which dominated in science. That needs to be continued and 'Brand Bharat' should speak for excellence in science and technology, she said.

She said India's strength in science has been unbroken since ancient times. The Indian Space Research Organization (ISRO) is doing spectacular things about space research, and India is leading in biosciences too, she said.

The FM said economic well-being has got to be guided by Dharma! They need to brand India as a responsible capitalist country, she said.

She said that at least, the top 100 tourist centres in India should have a self-learning programme that is digitally run for the architecture of the iconic site. Temples or iconic tourist centres will have to be handled with a lot more perspective. This is where India's image is being projected. There is a need for better servicing, catering, tourist guides, and immersive experience and it is possible to do that, she said.

According to Sitharaman, the global talking points of today, such as sustainability and circular economy were once woven in the fabric of our existence. She said much before the West went 'vocal for local', India was doing it.

VALMIKI SCAM FALLOUT

Government tightens screws, all expenditure will need fin dept nod

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

IN a game-changing and controversial decision, the Karnataka government has issued a new directive that will send shockwaves through state-run boards and corporations: All expenditure, no matter how small, will now require prior approval from the Finance department. This unprecedented move, which includes even routine expenses like power bills and rental payments, will redefine how public funds are handled in the state.

The announcement comes on the heels of the Valmiki Corporation scam, which revealed a web of corruption where large sums of taxpayer money were diverted by corrupt officials for personal gain. The scandal also exposed serious flaws in the system that allowed widespread financial irregularities. Faced with public outrage, the government finally decided to check corruption to restore the people's trust.

By demanding that even the smallest of payments be scrutinized and cleared by the Finance department, the government is sending a message that no one is above accountability, and every rupee spent by state boards and corporations will have to be accounted for.

The announcement is aimed at quelling public dissatisfaction and restoring faith in the financial management system.

> Following the Valmiki Nigam scam, where funds were siphoned off from the corporation's bank accounts, the Finance department has decided to move the funds of all boards and corporations, dependent solely on government funding, to public deposit accounts in the Treasury. This new measure will prevent managing directors and officials from issuing cheques at their discretion. They will now be required to submit proper bills, vouchers and documentation for approval before drawing any money. This step is aimed at preventing future financial irregularities
>
> Atheeq LK, ACS to CM

"This is necessary to ensure such financial misdemeanours are not repeated," a senior official involved in the decision-making process said.

The decision is expected to overhaul the way state-run organizations manage funds, with checks and balances being added to every financial transaction. The increased transparency and scrutiny is likely to shake up long-standing practices within the institutions, and could lead to a complete rethinking of how budgets are managed and funds are disbursed.

However, there are many critics questioning the practicality of the move, and argue that while the intent is noble, implementation could be cumbersome.

An expert who has decades of experience in public finance, expressed concern over the potential for bureaucratic paralysis. "This is a knee-jerk, reactionary measure that could burden the finance department. Imagine the sheer number of boards and corporations submitting the smallest payment requests for approval, it is going to be a logistical nightmare. Dozens of daily transactions will need to go through a central office. It could slow down essential services and cripple efficiency," the expert warned, on condition of anonymity.

Critics argue that the measure will involve unnecessary red tape. "Boards and corporations already have their own bank accounts, and for larger organizations, complying with this new rule could be a logistical and financial disaster," he added.

The Sabarimala temple on Friday witnessed huge rush of devotees ahead of the weekend holidays. In the first five days since the temple opened on Vrishchikam 1, as many as 3,17,923 devotees visited Sabarimala. It was around 2 lakh in the previous season

Will study US 'chargesheet report' & act on it: Naidu

US Securities and Exchange Commission accused Gautam Adani of offering bribe of ₹1,750 cr to YS Jagan Reddy

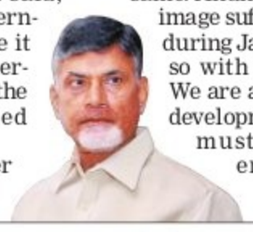
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayawada

EMPHASISING that the State government has access to the 'chargesheet reports' filed in the US in connection with the bribery case involving the previous YSRCP government and the Adani Group, Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu on Friday promised to act on the irregularities.

Addressing the Legislative Assembly after some members demanded action against YSRCP president and former Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, Naidu said, "I have all the chargesheet reports filed there (US). It is in public domain. Will study it (the allegations and indictment) and act on it as required and inform you."

The US Securities and Exchange Commission accused Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani of offering a bribe of ₹1,750 crore to YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, when he was Chief Minister in August 2021 to secure power purchase agreements with various distribution companies in Andhra Pradesh. However, both Adani and YSRC have strongly denied the charges.

When BJP floor leader P Vishnu Kumar Raju raised the issue in the House, other members sought a discussion on the subject. Jagan has now become a global leader in scams, Vishnu Kumar quipped and said, "As a responsible government, we have to take it upon ourselves to determine the veracity of the allegations levelled against Jagan."



Highlighting other allegations levelled against the former Chief Minister with regards to other big projects, he claimed that Jagan had handed over Gangavaram project at a throwaway price.

Responding to the outburst, the Chief Minister said for the past five months, the government has been analysing the destruction and corruption involving the previous government over five years and discussing how to go forward to address them. Naidu stressed, "It is our bounden duty to address public issues, as people have given the mandate for the same. Andhra Pradesh's brand image suffered a serious dent during Jagan's regime, more so with the latest episode. We are anguished over the developments. Wrongdoers must be punished to ensure mistakes don't recur."

BJD: Bribery charges baseless, incorrect

Bhubaneswar: Breaking its silence on the US department of Justice's indictment of Adani group on bribery charges for payments to government officials of Odisha and several other states to secure solar energy contracts, the BJD, which was in power in the state during the period, dismissed the allegations as 'baseless and incorrect'. Former Energy minister and Opposition chief whip in the Assembly Pratap Keshari Deb said that the power purchase agreement made in 2021 was between two government agencies - the Solar Energy Corporation of India Limited (SECI), a central public sector undertaking (PSU) and Gridco, a state PSU, for the purpose of supply of renewal energy. This is part of a central government scheme called manufacturing linked solar scheme, he said. Deb said the agreement was to procure 500 MW of renewal energy from SECI at the lowest rates and it was between two government entities. "There was no engagement between any private party whatsoever including the Adani group," he said. "In fact, to fulfill the renewable energy commitments, the state has been procuring renewable energy from central government PSUs like SECI and NTPC from 2011 onwards. Meanwhile, former Union minister and senior Congress leader Srikant Jena demanded investigation by a joint parliamentary committee (JPC) to probe Adani's activities and Centre's complicity in the matter.

All K'taka hospitals to have enough stock of anti-venom

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOREST, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre on Friday said that suitable measures will be taken to ensure that all government and private hospitals, and health centres have sufficient stock of anti-venom. He said the government will also support research on developing species-wise anti-venoms.

Speaking at the announcement of the discovery of four new King Cobra species, one of them endemic to the Western Ghats, Khandre said that despite the availability of anti-venoms in hospitals, awareness about their usage and information among people is limited. He said the government will work on creating awareness and sensitisation among people to reduce snake bite-related deaths. He found it shocking that many people die of snake bites, due to unavailability of anti-venoms and lack of awareness about it. The government will leave no stone unturned in spreading awareness, with the help of conservationists and experts, he added.

Khandre also announced that henceforth, one of the discovered King Cobra species, will have a Kannada name. It will be called Ophiophagus (Ophio means 'snake', and phagus 'eating') kaalinga.

Noted herpetologist, snake expert and founder of Kalinga Foundation, P Gowri Shankar, following a detailed study with experts from other countries discovered that there are four King Cobra species. This finding has been made for the first time after 185 years. Shankar said the idea and the need for the study arose when he was bitten by a snake and the anti-venom from the Philippines did not help. That is when he started looking for answers and conducted a detailed study on the same.

The four species identified are Northern King Cobra - Ophiophagus Hannah, restricted to eastern Pakistan, northern and eastern India, Andaman Islands, Indo-Burma, Indo-China, and Thailand; Sunda King Cobra Ophiophagus bungarus, which inhibits the Sunday shelf area, including Malay Peninsula, Greater Sunda Islands, and parts of South Philippines; Western Ghats King Cobra - Ophiophagus kaalinga is a newly discovered species endemic to the region; and Luzon King Cobra is another new species inhibiting northern Philippines.

Snake experts and forest officials informed Khandre that there is no anti-venom available for King Cobra bites. Responding, the minister assured that all support will be provided on finding one at the earliest.

'Demand for PCCs went up after conflict'

"WE issue PCCs to many countries in West Asia, Australia, the UK and now there is a demand from people to go to Israel. We have issued nearly 2,200 such certificates so far this year for people from Karnataka headed to work in Israel. We issued only 1,576 such certificates in 2023," Regional Passport Officer (Bengaluru) Krishna K told TNIE.

It is learnt that the demand for PCCs went up last year too after the conflict between Israel and Hamas began.

"Around 25,000 PCCs have been issued so far this year with demand from people from the state to go to Kuwait (6,000), Israel (2,200), Australia (2,000) and the UK (1,382). However, there has been a dip in those seeking such certificates to go to the UK. In all, 2,396 certificates were issued in 2023 and only 1,382 so far this year," he said.

On May 9, 2023, a statement from the Israeli foreign ministry said that an agreement had been signed to permit 34,000 workers from India for construction and 8,000 for nursing sectors. Krishna said RPO will create a new record in issual of passports this calendar year.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

RBI KEEPING THE RUPEE STABLE USEFUL IN SHORT RUN, DIFFICULT IN LONG

THE Indian rupee weakened to an all-time low of 84.50 against the US dollar on Thursday, driven by foreign fund outflows, escalating geopolitical tensions and expectations of sharper rate cuts by the US Federal Reserve. According to RBI data, the 40-currency basket measuring the rupee's competitiveness shows it was overvalued by 7.21 percent through October—nearly the highest in six years. But the rupee's decline of 1.5 percent this year against the dollar is the least among Asian currencies. RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das recently noted that the rupee has emerged as one of the least volatile currencies in the world since the start of 2023. Given that excessive volatility can have detrimental effects, RBI's stated policy is to ensure that the exchange rate remains stable, which in turn instils confidence among market participants, investors and the wider economy.

That said, the RBI does not have a target level for the rupee. As the central bank's latest monthly bulletin observed, the threshold should be determined by demand and supply, and reflect India's macroeconomic fundamentals. But there is criticism that the RBI has artificially kept the exchange rate stable through extensive interventions in the foreign exchange market. Between June and September 2024, the central bank indirectly sold dollars, employing public sector banks as intermediaries, helping prevent a depreciation that could have disrupted trade and investments. The IMF raised an alarm on this, too. But the RBI, through an article co-authored by Deputy Governor Michael Patra, contested the decision to classify India's exchange rate policy as a 'stabilised arrangement' between December 2022 and October 2023. It argued that the RBI's forex interventions should be measured relative to the GDP, which averaged 1.6 percent during February to October 2022, as against 1.5 percent during earlier crises of smaller magnitude.

If the rupee fluctuates wildly, businesses and investors may suddenly see the value of their rupee-denominated assets decline. RBI's strategy has been to keep the rupee within a narrow trading range, minimising risk as well as making it attractive for global transactions. The currency can come under sudden pressure if there is no safeguard. So India's forex accumulation and interventions appear appropriate. While the prevailing exchange rate policy has not hurt India's trade competitiveness, artificially controlling the rupee's stability may not be sustainable in the long run.

LAND WARANGAL AIRPORT PROJECT WITHOUT DELAY

EVER since its formation, Telangana has broadly been on an upward development curve—albeit with a few bumps along the way. The state's economic output has grown more than 70 percent over the decade of its existence (at constant prices). A large chunk of it has come from the services sector, which is concentrated in and around capital Hyderabad. It's obvious that the state's development has been unevenly distributed between its districts—which has translated into large income disparities between regions. To improve the balance, efforts have been made to develop other urban areas in the state, but progress on the front has been far from satisfactory.

Against this background, the state government's decision to give a leg-up to Warangal is welcome. It has allocated ₹205 crore to build an airport at Mamnoor outside Warangal city—the second one in the state. That Telangana, one of the fastest growing states, has only one airport at a time when others including neighbouring Andhra Pradesh have more is a sad reflection. But, better late than never. A second airport will help the people as well as services and industrial development.

Though there have been proposals to develop airports at Adilabad, Ramagundam and Kothaudem too, the ideas have stayed on paper. The Warangal airport, which would be able to handle aircraft the size of the A320, has the potential to be a game-changer. Approval for the Kakatiya (Warangal) masterplan, which includes an outlay of a little over ₹4,000 crore for the city's underground drainage, is another right step towards balanced development.

It must also be noted that intention is not action. The ongoing smart cities project is a case in point. Warangal and Karimnagar were selected for the project, but the works have been very slow. If the airport and the planned urban development are completed in about five years, the economic landscape of the state can be transformed. Also on the cards are industrial corridors between the Nehru Ring Road in Hyderabad and the upcoming Regional Ring Road, and the promotion of agriculture and allied sectors in areas beyond the Regional Ring Road. All these initiatives must land smoothly without controversies and corruption. Else, a decade on, we will still be writing about excellent proposals.

QUICK TAKE

LAUGHING AT OURSELVES

KHUSHWANT Singh must be having a hearty laugh in the skies. The sardar, whose series of joke books never shied from poking fun at his own community, would find it ironically funny that a PIL seeking to ban Sikh joke websites has made its way to the Supreme Court. Sense of humour varies widely between peoples—one group's joke may easily offend another. Decency is surely called for in parsing a joke's subject from its target. But when the UK government tried to ban jokes on religions or communities in 2006, comedian Rowan Atkinson reminded them of a Freudian basic: "Every joke has a victim."

India has had several masters who could coalesce disparate views and heal the soul. As hatred sweeps across the world, it's time for a renaissance in such thinking

REDISCOVERING THE ESSENCE OF HUMANITY

K M CHANDRASEKHAR

Former Cabinet Secretary and author of As Good as My Word: A Memoir

SOURAV ROY

HINDU sages can be of diverse dispositions. They can achieve states of ecstasy, following paths laid down in different religions, like Ramakrishna. They can spread the message of Vedanta far and wide, like Vivekananda and Paramahamsa Yogananda. They can break free of ritualistic religion and intolerance like the Buddha and Sankaracharya.

Some may want to project themselves, garner much publicity, run successful businesses, and leave behind disciples aplenty and organisations that live after them. They can be short-tempered like Durvasa or gentle like Vasishta. And there are others, like Atmananda Krishna Menon, who make no great effort to gain prominence, live their lives frugally and yet leave behind a philosophy and spiritual practice that inspires generations.

Paul Brunton, the British author, based his best-sellers A Search in Secret India and The Secret Path on his encounters with spiritual masters across India. Brunton, a pseudonym of Raphael Hurst, came to Thiruvananthapuram in 1952 to meet Krishna Menon, whom he met again in Bengaluru in 1953. He wrote, "Only in Krishna Menon I find full satisfaction. It took me, however, four years from the time of meeting him to be absolutely sure he was the perfect guru I sought. Instead of enjoining celibacy, Krishna Menon rejects it. Moreover, he counsels disciples to get married, for love can be a means of helping spiritual growth as it leads to self-forgetfulness in the happiness of the other person."

Another visitor was Joseph Campbell, famous mythologist, author of A Hero with a Thousand Faces and the brain behind the renowned documentary, 'The Power of Myth', produced by George Lucas of Star Wars fame. Campbell wrote about his journey in 1955, "Once in India, I thought I would like to meet a major guru or teacher face to face. So I went to see a celebrated teacher named Krishna Menon." Campbell questioned him why there was so much bestiality, vulgarity and brutality in the world if the universe is itself a manifestation of divinity. Would it not mean that even the base elements in the world are manifesting divinity? Atmananda replied, "For you and me, the way is to say yes."

"We then had a wonderful talk on this theme of the affirmation of all things," Campbell wrote, "And it confirmed me in the feeling I had that who are we to judge? It seems to me that is one of the great teachings of Jesus as well." He describes his conversation with Krishna Menon in great detail in Baksheesh and Brahman: Indian Journal 1945-1955.

Krishna Menon was an outstanding student. He passed matriculation examination, first in the state of Travancore, then completed his FA examination and appeared for the BA degree examination as a private candidate even while working as a schoolteacher. He was drafted into the police as the then commissioner wanted promising new entrants into the force. He later acquired a Bachelor of Law degree, which resulted in his being made a prosecuting inspector, from which he was promoted to ASP, Kottayam.

He was devoted to his work; he revised and codified the police manual. He retired from the police in 1939 as the district superintendent of police in erstwhile Quilon. He married Parukutty Amma, who understood her husband's spiritual quest and supported him until the end of her life in 1952.

Unlike Ramana Maharshi, Atmananda did not renounce the life of a householder right from childhood. In this respect, he resembles more the other great luminary of Advaita, Nisargadatta, who was a small trader and, in four years with his guru, realised that consciousness was one, that the true path lies in self-inquiry and in penetrating the depths of one's being.

Atmananda Krishna Menon's Atma Nirvriti and Atma Darshan are brief but clear expositions of the basic principles of Advaita, where the universe is seen as one indivisible, indestructible, eternal reality. Consciousness pervades all and can be discovered as the entity that unifies the waking state, the dream state and deep sleep. It is the entity that can be perceived as the gap between successive thoughts. By relentlessly going inwards, the seeker can understand and, later, comprehend consciousness.

Happiness is the essence of consciousness. Happiness is not derived from objects. If that were so, the same object must generate the same joy at all times, whether one is a baby, an adolescent or an adult. It is not derived from the mind. If that were so, we should be able to summon happiness from inside our minds at will.

This is the 'direct path' to consciousness, as distinguished from the progressive path, which consists of rituals, meditation, penance and the painstaking renunciation of desires. This path is more akin to the principles expounded by the Upanishads, rediscovered and preached by the inimitable Sankaracharya, and carried to all parts of the world by Vivekananda and other philosophers. This is the same concept that is now catching the attention of thinking people through the efforts of new-age gurus like Greg Goode, Rupert Spira, Mooji, and Sarvapriyananda. In literature and fiction, these thoughts are reflected in the writings of Richard Bach, Paulo Coelho and others.

As physics progresses, as cosmology evolves, and as we grapple with quantum physics, similar thoughts are developing in the scientific world, too.

A particle remains a probabilistic wave until it is observed. Two particles can be mutually entangled even if they are millions of light-years apart. Space and time are interrelated and together form the fabric of the universe. Matter and energy are freely convertible.

Philip Renard, in his book I is a Door, written in Dutch, says of the three philosophers of the time, "All three teachers… are free from religious schemes and dogma, therefore making them suitable as a source of teaching for Westerners. I consider these three, Ramana Maharshi, Atmananda and Nisargadatta Maharaj, as the 'big three' of the 20th-century Advaita Vedanta. To me, they are the ones that reduced Vedanta to the heart of the matter: direct recognition of your true nature."

As mutual hatred and intolerance sweep across the world, it is time for a renaissance in spiritual thinking that transcends all religions and enables us to rediscover the essence of humanity.

STICKINESS OF SHAME IN THE U.S. AND INDIA

PRATIK KANJILAL

For years, the author has been speaking easy to a surprisingly tolerant public

SPEAKEASY

WAVES of joy-and-gloating or fear-and-loathing are sweeping America every day—depending upon one's political allegiance—as president-elect Donald Trump announces bizarre appointments for his government. But this week brought exotic news to Americans when law officers in New York indicted the Adani Group for alleged wire and securities fraud, $250 million in bribes to secure contracts for Adani Green Energy in India, and conspiracy to conceal this. Court documents refer to the scheme as "the corrupt solar project".

Will it make a difference to Gautam Adani, who has weathered a damaging attack by the short-seller Hindenburg Group? Well, the US president-elect has been indicted on 34 counts—and it hasn't hurt his prospects.

The day before Adani's indictment, Trump began to get intelligence briefings in the lead-up to assuming office. An FBI raid in 2022 on his golf club had uncovered reams of classified documents which he was supposed to have surrendered when he lost office. With his re-election, he seems to have gotten away with this serious security breach, too. This is legitimising impunity—in comparison, alleged bribery by a foreign business owner looks fairly minor.

Corruption does not enjoy the casual legitimacy in the US that it does in India. The Foreign Corrupt Practices Act prohibits the use of American investments to gratify foreign officials to influence decisions. Penalties include huge fines, possible jail terms and being disbarred from doing business with the US government.

In this case, Adani and seven executives including his nephew Sagar Adani are accused of raising billions of dollars from US investors and others for a solar energy contract in India, while concealing their intention to pay an alleged $250 million in bribes to Indian government officials to secure it.

Adani is in august company. Companies charged under the FCPA include defence contractor Raytheon Technologies, proven to have bribed military officers and officials in Qatar to secure a contract that included Patriot missile systems. Walmart was accused of playing fast and loose with FCPA norms designed to prevent bribery and routing speed money through intermediaries in India, China, Brazil and Mexico. Both paid hundreds of millions and committed to harden anti-corruption measures.

Cash works fine and they were presumed to have paid their debt to society. That's how the American legal system works. No sense of shame survives, though it is a powerful deterrent to lawbreaking.

In India, in contrast, shame persists. It has imposed cumulative costs on the Congress, partly because it carried on regardless. The shadow of Bofors still stalks it,

AP

> As the indicted Donald Trump's comeback and cabinet picks show, shame is not a permanent disability in the US. Even some of the largest US companies have paid fines for bribery and moved on. But as past bribery scandals in India show, such ignominy is stickier in this part of the world and party functionaries have made it worse by persisting with corruption in, for instance, the Commonwealth Games. The Congress lost control of its future during the India Against Corruption movement, which capitalised on the party's inglorious culture of bribery. Even Comptroller and Accountant General Vinod Rai's absurd notion of "presumptive loss" in the award of 2G spectrum looked acceptable.

Now, in the US, Trump is leveraging a political order in which shame is not a permanent disability, by making appointments that are designed to shock. The appointees are poorly equipped to man the offices they will hold and personal loyalty to Trump is their main qualification. This is not a novelty for Indians, who are accustomed to education ministers who may be undereducated and health ministers who may favour unproven cures.

But for Americans, it is a shock to find that anti-vaxxer conspiracy theorist Robert F Kennedy Jr, who had bowed out of the contest to support Trump, will head the health system. It does need intervention because it is the world's most expensive. But it is also the most advanced, conducts cutting-edge research and offers treatments that are hard to find elsewhere. It would be a pity if Kennedy tightened its belt in order to finance remedies like hyperbaric oxygen therapy, which he supports.

It doesn't help that Kennedy is the odd man in. In this year's campaign, he will be remembered most for the brouhaha he caused by dumping the corpse of a bear cub in Central Park in New York City. It was roadkill that he had planned to take home to eat, but then remembered that he had to go someplace else where he couldn't take the bear. It takes a man of a certain quality to think of dumping a bear in one of the city's best-known attractions.

That's not all. A TV doc who sells supplements online will look after health insurance. A wrestling entertainment entrepreneur will take care of education, and more appointments designed to shock and awe lie ahead. There is no shame associated with this process. It's just politics.

In India, Adani has played the shame game well. He weathered the Hindenburg attack by conflating the idea of Adani with the idea of India, upon which the attacker was revealed to be a disgraceful 'anti-national'. Adani hasn't had more than a year of peace after recovering from that attack with the help of foreign investment. Now, he has been blindsided in the quest for more foreign investment.

It's a fine irony that in a nation where anti-corruption rhetoric features high on election manifestos, alleged corruption involves one of the nation's flagship solar projects.

Delayed steps

Ref: ECI must decentralise for swift action against model code violators (Nov 22). Model code violations are a dime a dozen during poll time. The Election Commission's delays defeat the very purpose of the action, if any is taken. Permitting state ECs to assess violations and initiate action would be an ideal step to curb model code violations.

Protecting democracy

The EC should leave no stone unturned in ensuring free and fair elections in the country. The suggestions such as leveraging digital infrastructure in the election process, empowering the district and state-level election authorities, strict monitoring of election campaigns and other electoral exercises are practicable. If implemented, the EC can become a formidable democratic institution.

The Kerala motor vehicles department must initiate steps to inculcate stricter discipline among those licensed to drive ambulances. Ambulances are a critical lifeline during casualty events, saving lives, not taking them. Ambulance service providers should verify a driver's history before allowing them to drive an ambulance.

Poll results to set tone for Oppn strategy in House

Adani indictment, Manipur violence & Waqf Bill to heat up winter session

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE stage is set for a stormy Parliament session from Monday, with the Opposition planning to attack the Modi government over business tycoon Gautam Adani's indictment in the US over bribery and security fraud charges. Apart from the Adani row, the crisis in Manipur and Waqf (Amendment Bill) 2024 also figure prominently on the Opposition agenda during the winter session.

However, Opposition leaders admit that the results of the Jharkhand and Maharashtra assembly elections, set to be out on Saturday, will decide the tone and tenor of the session.

Speaking to this newspaper, a senior Congress leader said that the Opposition strategy will be chalked out only after the all-party meeting on Sunday. "The US indictment of Adani is the main issue on our agenda. But our strategy depends on how the government responds to our demands in the all-party meeting on Sunday. Crucial decisions will be taken after the meeting," he said.

The leader cited how Opposition parties boycotted the 'Constitution Day' function in the Central Hall of Parliament, which was attended by President Ram Nath Kovind and Prime Minister Narendra Modi in 2021. The parties had alleged that the government was undermining Constitution in governance and law-making.

> Our strategy depends on how the government responds to our demands in the all-party meeting on Sunday. Crucial decisions will be taken after the meeting
>
> Congress leader

"We haven't decided whether we will take a similar step this time. It will depend on the response of the government," he said. The government is holding a special joint sitting of both the houses of Parliament on November 26 to mark the 75th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of India.

While both the BJP and Opposition camps are confident of winning the Maharashtra and Jharkhand elections, the results will have a bearing on the affairs of the House. The Opposition believes that if the INDIA bloc manages to win at least one state, it can counter the BJP on Adani and other issues aggressively.

The Congress will consult INDIA bloc partners such as DMK and Samajwadi Party on chalking out a floor strategy in attacking the government on the Adani issue, said the leader. The Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi called for the arrest of Adani after the row broke out. However, INDIA bloc party NCP may take a divergent stand on the issue.

The controversial Waqf Bill will be another point of confrontation between the Opposition and ruling benches. "The introduction of the Bill depends on how NDA ally TDP responds to it," said another leader.

Some Opposition leaders also apprehend that the government may sneak in the One Nation One Election Bill, though it has not been listed. "The Bill has the support of NDA allies TDP and JD (U). Most likely, the government will try to pass it this time. The Opposition will resist such a move," said the leader.

Direct entry of specialists in Army soon

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

IN a major organisational change, the Indian Army plans to induct specialists into the force through various schemes under the Territorial Army and permanent and short-service commission entry.

The advertisements for the specialists are expected to be published next year. The focus is also towards developing clusters for working on innovations on niche technology.

The details related to the job role and exact vacancy is being worked out, Lieutenant General Rakesh Kapoor, Deputy Chief of Army Staff (Information System and Coordination) said on Friday. "The plan is to induct specialists/ domain experts to work in the niche areas like cyber security, perception management, linguists etc and the advertisements with details will be out by next year." he said while talking to the media.

Initially, the advertisement is expected to be out in a month for the eligible youth to join the Territorial Army. The regular entry schemes are National Defence Academy (NDA), Combined Defence Services (CDS) exam and Officers Training Academy (OTA) exam.

It will be done in small numbers to begin with. Territorial Army (TA) is a part of regular Army and its present role is to relieve the regular Army from static duties and assist civil administration in dealing with natural calamities and maintenance of essential services in situations where life of the communities is affected or the country's security is threatened.

TA has already inducted five Chinese (Mandarin) language experts, along with 12 more inducted through the other routes.

As part of the larger scheme, "The candidates will be inducted both as officers and men and will be working in the niche areas having the opportunity to get promoted to the higher ranks in the same role."

In addition, domain specialists will also be inducted in the Indian Army through regular recruitment routes. Advertisement for the same is expected to come out soon.

The Indian Army, following tenure-based posting, is undergoing a major transformation right from induction, training, structure and organisational. This will help the specialists to stay at the place of their posting for long without their promotion getting affected. "Mechanism is being worked out so that they occupy these billets," said Gen Kapoor.

The Indian Army, as part of the overall structural changes, is also creating branches with officers in charge to work towards technology innovation together with the academia, and institutions like the Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs), other engineering colleges and Indian Institute of Science.

The Army has entered a "decade of transformation" by declaring year 2023 as 'Year of Transformation' and 2024 as 'Year of Technology Absorption' to align its rank and file towards the transformative initiatives being undertaken.

The Indian Army has formed 16 technology clusters which are headed by senior officers, working under a timeline. "We have officers driving these clusters with their regular progress report going upto the Army Chief." said DCOAS Kapoor.

There are short-term road maps with six-month progress being analysed. There are also certain roadmaps stretching up to three years.

The deputy chief talked about issues concerning the supply chain and limitations in acquiring niche technologies other countries will not share.

VESSEL COLLIDES WITH SUB, 2 MISSING

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

TWO fishermen were reported missing after their fishing vessel collided with a Indian Navy submarine about 70 nautical miles off the Goa coast.

Eleven of the 13 crew on board fishing vessel Marthoma were rescued. "Search and rescue efforts were immediately launched by the Indian Navy with six ships and aircraft. 11 crew have been rescued so far," navy officials said.

A coordinated search and rescue effort for the remaining two crew is on. Additional naval assets, including from the Coast Guard, have been diverted to the area to augment the search efforts. Sources said the submarine was moving from one port to the other on the western coast when the accident happened on Thursday night. "After the collision, it continued to its next port of call," they added. The extent of damage to the submarine will be ascertained once it touches the port, possibly by Friday night, the source said. The cause of the collision is being investigated.

Fishermen getting curious about a surfaced periscope amid pitch darkness and trying to figure out the ripples it was creating, has happened a few times in the past. In 2015, INS Sindhughosh collided with a fishing vessel off the western coast, which resulted in minor damage to its periscope.

BJP to focus on Centre's schemes in Bihar polls

NEW DELHI: The Bihar unit of the BJP, which met here on Friday to discuss strategies for the assembly elections due next year in the state, decided to highlight the Centre's development projects and welfare schemes during the campaign, apart from launching a grassroots outreach drive, party leaders said after the meeting. Key members of the BJP's state core committee held the meeting at the residence of Union minister Giriraj Singh, which was chaired by Bihar BJP in-charge Vinod Tawde. BJP leaders reportedly reviewed the party's performance in the last assembly elections and identified constituencies where candidates lost narrowly. "We will focus on weak assembly seats to consolidate our position. Extra efforts will be made to ensure our victory in these constituencies this time," said a BJP leader who attended the meeting. As part of the NDA, the BJP has been in power in Bihar under CM Nitish Kumar. However, the party is strategising to emerge as the single-largest entity in the 2025 polls by banking on the Centre's development initiatives and the alliance government's performance.

Changes to Preamble underwent due judicial reviews, says SC

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday reserved its verdict on a batch of pleas challenging the inclusion of the words "socialist" and "secular" in the Preamble to the Constitution.

During the hearing, the bench observed the 1976 amendment to the Constitution, adding terms "socialist", "secular" and "integrity" to the Preamble, underwent judicial reviews and it cannot say whatever Parliament did during the emergency period was all nullity.

A bench comprising Chief Justice Sanjiv Khanna and Justice Sanjay Kumar reserved its verdict on the batch of pleas filed by former Rajya Sabha MP Subramanian Swamy, advocate Vishnu Shankar Jain and Advocate Ashwini Kumar Upadhyay, saying that it would pronounce its order on the issue on November 25.

The CJI said, "The subject amendment (42nd amendment) has been subjected to a lot of judicial reviews by this court. The Parliament has intervened. We cannot say that whatever Parliament did at that time (emergency) was all nullity."

The bench also refused to refer the matter to a larger bench as sought by the petitioner and said "being socialist" in the Indian sense was understood to be a "welfare state".

Advocate Jain said that in a recent verdict of a nine-judge Constitution bench, the majority view doubted the interpretation of the word "socialist" as propounded by former apex court judges Justices VR Krishna Iyer and O Chinnappa Reddy. Emergency in India was declared by the late PM Indira Gandhi from June 25, 1975 to March 21, 1977.

The bench said, "The way we understand socialism in India is very different from other countries. In our context, socialism primarily means a welfare state. That is all. It has never prevented the private sector, which is thriving well. We have all benefited from it." Justice Khanna said the word socialism was used in different contexts worldwide and in India it meant the state was a welfare one and must stand for the welfare of the people and should provide equality of opportunities. He said the top court held "secularism" to be part of the basic structure of the Constitution in the 1994 SR Bommai case.

Another petitioner, Advocate Ashwini Upadhyay, said that he was not against the concepts of "socialism" and "secularism" but opposed to their insertion into the Preamble.

The bench said Article 368 granted Parliament the power to amend the Constitution and it extended to the Preamble as well. "Preamble is a part and parcel of the Constitution," the court said, making it clear that it will not go into the arguments that the Lok Sabha in 1976 could not have amended the Constitution and that amending the Preamble was a constituent power, exercised only by the Constituent Assembly.

SC stays disqualification of six HP House secys

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday stayed the disqualification process of six chief parliamentary secretaries (CPS) of Himachal Pradesh appointed by the Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu-led government last year.

It stayed the high court's direction declaring the power to appoint chief parliamentary secretaries and parliamentary secretaries in the state as unconstitutional.

The HC had on November 13 quashed the appointment of six CPS and termed the law under which they were appointed as "void".

A two-judge bench comprising CJI Sanjiv Khanna and Justice Sanjay Kumar said there will be no further proceedings under the high court order quashing the appointments.

On November 16, the Himachal government moved the apex court seeking to set aside the high court's November 14 order and authorisation of the appointment of the six parliamentary secretaries.

Sukhu had appointed the six CPS — Sanjay Awasthi, Sunder Singh, Ram Kumar, Mohan Lal Barakta, Ashish Butail and Kishori Lal from Baijnath — on January 8, 2023 ahead of his cabinet expansion.

In its appeal filed before the top court, the state government said the HC order was "bad in law" and sought a stay on it.

"The legal consequence would be that six CPS, who are also MLAs, are likely to face disqualification under Article 192 of the Constitution as the protection granted to them from the office of profit norms has been taken away, without adjudication, causing political instability," the state government's appeal said.

Quashing the appointment, the high court had also directed that all the facilities and privileges of the six CPS be withdrawn with immediate effect.

It had declared the Himachal Pradesh Parliamentary Secretaries (Appointment, Salaries, Allowances, Powers, Privileges and Amenities) Act, 2006 as void. "The Act is quashed as being beyond the legislative competence of the state legislature and consequently, all subsequent actions, including the appointments of the six CPS are held illegal..." the HC had said.

'Language should not be barrier': Tributes to ANR

PARVEZ SULTAN @Panaji

SHARING memories of his father and noted filmmaker Akkineni Nageswara Rao, widely known as ANR, Telugu superstar Nagarjuna on Friday said that ANR's belief that language should not be a barrier was ahead of its time.

"My father's goal was clear: to make Telugu cinema a force to be reckoned with. He established Annapurna Studios, which remains a cornerstone of the industry today. His belief that language should not be a barrier was ahead of its time," said the actor said.

He was speaking at a special session titled 'Centenary Special ANR: Celebrating the Life and Works of Akkineni Nageswara Rao' held in Panaji as part of the 55th International Film Festival of India (IFFI). He was in conversation with actor Khushbu Sundar.

The programme began with a tribute video showcasing ANR's legacy and his pivotal role in shaping Telugu cinema, after which Nagarjuna shared several anecdotes of his father and also spoke about his vision for the industry.

Nagarjuna reminisced that ANR had started playing women characters at a time when women were not allowed to work in theatre. He recalled that his father would look cute in plaits, adding that may be this was one of the reason the late legend had turned to acting.

The Mask director wants to work with SRK, Aamir

Hollywood filmmaker Chuck Russell, best known for Hollywood hits such as 'The Mask' and 'The Scorpion King', has already tried his hand at directing a Hindi film and he now aspires to collaborate with Bollywood superstars Aamir Khan and Shah Rukh Khan. Russell ventured into Indian cinema with the 2019 film 'Junglee', starring Vidyut Jammwal and Akshay Oberoi. "I've been wanting to work with Aamir Khan before. He knows it, I've visited him. And Shah Rukh Khan. I got to work with Akshay (Oberoi) and my cast in 'Junglee' was terrific. I like working with different cultures and talent that is new to me. All of India is new to me," Russell said.

The IFFI is celebrating the birth centenary of the Telugu cinema stalwart by showcasing a restored version of his 1953 movie 'Devadasu'.

Nagarjuna also revealed that at one point, ANR was dejected as he was mocked by a lot of people who made fun of him for his 'feminine' mannerisms. "People made fun of him and that really dejected him. He went to Marina Beach where he wanted to kill himself because there was so much laughter (mockery) and all of that. He told me he went waist deep into the sea water and then something in him stopped him," Nagarjuna said.

Nagarjuna credited his family for preserving ANR's vision through initiatives like the Annapurna College of Film and, adding, "It is about creating a platform for the next generation of filmmakers."

When asked about a biopic on Nageswara Rao, Nagarjuna revealed that his plan was to make a documentary. "A documentary would better capture the essence of his life and vision," the actor explained.

● BJP forms a 6-member team to contact party rebels and independents ● Cong has readied a pvt charter company in case need arises

Maha prep to keep flock together

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

ALL hands on deck, political adversaries in Maharashtra — the ruling MahaYuti and opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi — are readying for all sorts of exigencies that the Assembly results could throw up on Saturday. Maharashtra has 288-member Assembly voting for which took place on November 20.

At stake is the fate of key state leaders such as CM Eknath Shinde of his Shiv Sena faction, his deputy Devendra Fadnavis of BJP, Ajit Pawar of his faction of NCP, Uddhav Thackeray of Shiv Sena (UBT) and senior Congress leaders. After the Lok Sabha polls, this is the second time the NCP and Shiv Sena face voters' verdict after their parties split.

NCP (SP) patriarch Sharad Pawar on Friday had a virtual meeting with his party candidates on Friday and told them not to leave the polling centres unless the last vote is counted. He also told them that after getting the election certificate, they should rush to Mumbai.

MVA's lead ally Congress deputed former CMs Ashok Gehlot, Bhupesh Bhagel and G Parmeshawara (Karnataka minister) to handle the post-election scenario. The party's state in-charge Ramesh Chennithala also held a virtual meeting with party candidates and has stayed put in the Congress war room closely monitoring the situation. The party has also asked a private air service charter company to extend its service if there was a need to bring the elected party MLAs to Mumbai.

Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut told the media that MVA assessed every seat. "We have decided to bring all newly-elected MLAs to Mumbai. We have decided to make their residential arrangements together," he said.

Feverish activities were also seen in the MahaYuti camp. Alliance head BJP has formed a six-member team who have been told to contact the party rebels and independents who may win. "Once a party rebel is elected, then our party must immediately initiate talks with him and his demands should be conveyed to the top leadership. Our party is in touch with all probable winners," said a senior party leader.

Shidne is also in touch with his probable elected MLAs and independents. He is also leant to be exploring options in case BJP refuses to make him the CM again.

The Shiv Sena (UBT) is keeping its figure crossed. "If we get more than 40 seats, then we will insist on declaring Uddhav as the CM at least for a year," said Sena (UBT) leader.

Meanwhile, Vanchit Bahujan Aghadi chief Prakash Ambedkar said if his party gets the required numbers, it will choose the side that can form government. In a post on 'X', the grandson of Babasaheb Amebdkar said his party will be the one to choose power.

Reputation, prestige of 7 former CMs at stake

The 2024 Assembly polls are unique as the reputation of seven former chief ministers is at stake. The stalwarts have been keeping their fingers crossed. While incumbent CM Hemant Soren and former CMs Champai Soren and Babulal Marandi are contesting, kin of former CMs like Shibu Soren, Arjun Munda, Raghubar Das, and Madhu Koda are also in the fray. Though JMM chief Shibu Soren is away from active politics, his son Hemant Soren (Barhet), daughter-in-law Kalpana Soren (Gandey) and younger son Basant Soren (Dumka) are in the fray. Shibu Soren's elder daughter-in-law Sita Soren is also contesting from Jamtara on a BJP ticket.

Leprosy stigma beaten in Assembly elections

Jamtara, largely known as a cybercrime hub, drew attention when the residents of a leprosy colony voted for the first time at a dedicated polling booth in Mihijham in the last phase of the Assembly elections on Wednesday. All 57 voters afflicted with leprosy cast their votes at Snehpur community building in Hansipahari village under Mihijham block, registering a 100% turnout at the booth. Notably, this is for the first time that a dedicated booth was set up for them under the 'no voter to be left behind' motto of the EC. The booth was decorated with balloons and had all the basic facilities such as a ramp, wheelchair, electricity and drinking water.

MP made member of RS Privileges Committee

Former Jharkhand BJP president and Rajya Sabha MP Deepak Prakash has been made a member of the Rajya Sabha Privileges Committee. Rajya Sabha Deputy Chairman Harivansh will be its chairman. The committee will have a total of 10 members, including the chairman. A notification for the formation of the new committee has been issued. Upon receiving the responsibility in the Rajya Sabha, BJP leaders from Jharkhand congratulated Deepak Prakash.

JMM to keep vigil on winning candidates, BJP confident of victory

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

A day ahead of poll results, JMM candidates on Friday circulated Chief Minister Hemant Soren's 'head massage' family pictures on social media and took solace from a relaxed countenance of their leader.

At the JMM camp office at Harmu Housing Colony in Ranchi, an unpredictable silence prevailed. Party leaders quietly discussed the exit polls that have projected a close fight with the BJP-led NDA at many constituencies of the state. They also talked about the massive resources of the opposition BJP. A high vote percentage appeared to give the party leaders some confidence about the outcome. "Our Maiyyam Samman Yojana (promising an annual amount of ₹12,000 to women) is a big counter to the BJP's plank of Bangladeshi infiltration," said a JMM leader.

Other leaders are, however, worried about the possibility of horse trading following the results. They have been told to keep a close watch on their candidates. Party officials, along with the two general secretaries, have been told to arrive at the party office and monitor the counting process closely.

"If they find any anomaly during the counting, they should immediately raise the issue with a competent authority," said a JMM functionary.

JMM's ally Congress appeared positive. "We are going to get a clear majority... Jharkhand is going to get the INDIA bloc government again," said state Congress in-charge Ghulam Ahmad Mir, who arrived in the state capital a day ahead of the counting. The party has told district heads to go to their respective areas and keep a close eye on counting of votes. They have been told to accompany the winning candidates on their way to the state party headquarters in Ranchi.

State BJP chief Babulal Marandi reached the party headquarters in the afternoon and held a meeting for feedback on each seat.

Marandi claimed that the BJP-led alliance is going to win 51 out of 81 seats. "Jharkhand is all set to see change this time," he added.

Last rites of 9 victims amid tight security

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

THE last rites of nine Meiteis, including three women and an equal number of children killed in three separate incidents in Jiribam district of Manipur recently, were performed on Friday after the bodies were brought from Assam's Silchar Medical College and Hospital. Escorted by cops, two trucks carried the bodies to Jiribam.

Sources said that family members and village representatives of the deceased had gone to collect the bodies. Later, the last rites were performed in the presence of grieving family members, relatives and locals.

The three women and the children, including an eight-month-old, were reported missing after November 11 gunfight in Jiribam in which security forces killed 10 militants. Kuki-Zo organisations claimed they were village volunteers.

The bodies of the six women and children were recovered from Assam-Manipur border and taken to Silchar hospital for post-mortem.

Their killings had triggered widespread protests in Imphal valley. Irate mobs had attacked houses of ministers and MLAs for failing to check violence and protect the lives of people.

3 women among 10 Maoists killed in Bastar gun battle

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

TEN Maoists, three of them women, were gunned down in an encounter with security personnel in Chhattisgarh's Sukma district on Friday.

The gunfight broke out in a forest near Bhandarpadar village, where a joint team of security personnel was out on an anti-Naxalite operation, said Sundarraj P, IG (Bastar range). "Personnel of District Reserve Guard and CRPF launched the operation based on a tip-off about the presence of Maoists from Konta and Kistaram area committees on forested hills near Bhandarpadar," he said.

Sundarraj said bodies of 10 Maoists, including three women, have been recovered from the spot and six have been identified so far. Three automatic weapons — AK-47, assault rifle INSAS, self-loading rifle — and a cache of arms and ammunition were also recovered from the encounter area, about 500 km south of Raipur.

"There has been no report of any security personnel sustaining injuries. Reinforcements have been sent to the area and the search operation has been intensified," the IGP said.

With this incident, 207 Maoists have been killed so far this year in separate encounters in the Bastar division, comprising seven districts, including Sukma, Sundarraj said, adding that 787 Naxalites have been arrested, 789 have surrendered, and 262 weapons have been recovered during this period.

CM Vishnu Deo Sai praised security forces and asserted that his government's priority is to establish peace, facilitate development and ensure safety of people in Bastar. He said the government has been working on the policy of zero tolerance towards Naxalism. "The era of peace, development and progress has returned to Bastar," the CM said.

Encounters form a part of the strategy to free Bastar region from the Maoists. Union Home Minister Amit Shah had earlier declared that the country will be free from the Maoist problem by March 2026.

During the last one year, 32 new security camps have been set up in the Bastar region. The government has announced to set up 29 more camps.

Omar: Cong not part of govt, House resolution on Art 370 not diluted

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

J&K Chief Minister Omar Abdullah has said the Congress is not a part of his government and that it could be the grand old party's' compulsion to seek to dilute the Assembly resolution on Article 370.

"But by merely saying, nothing can be diluted." Omar said. On Congress chief Kharge's remarks on Article 370 that whatever has happened in Parliament, "why do you want to repeat it," Omar said, "Congress is not part of our government. Congress has only supported us from outside."

Amid hard talks by PM Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah on the passage of the resolution by the Assembly on restoration of J&K's special status, Omar said the resolution has not been rejected and is alive and that there was something in it that people are reacting to. "The resolution on restoration of special status and constitutional guarantees passed by the J&K Assembly has not been rejected," Omar told the media on the sidelines of a function in Srinagar.

The Assembly earlier this month passed a resolution calling for restoration of special status and constitutional guarantees. The resolution, which does not mention Article 370, was supported by all members in the 89-member J&K Assembly, except 28 BJP members.

"It is a big thing that none has rejected the resolution. It is alive. A door has been opened. We will see in the coming times what needs to be done," he said. Omar said that the J&K government brought this resolution and every member including from Congress and except BJP members supported and voted in favour of it.

Probe into torture of 4 civilians in Kishtwar

Chief Minister Omar Abdullah has demanded a probe and action against the Army men involved in the torture of four civilians in Kishtwar district. "It is very unfortunate that the Army has tortured civilians in custody in Kishtwar... Fortunately, they are alive," Omar said on Friday. "I hope the Army will conduct an investigation in a transparent manner," he added.

Believe it or not! 'Dead' man comes alive only to die again after 12 hours

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

A shocking incident in Jhunjhunu, Rajasthan, has raised serious questions regarding medical negligence after a 25-year-old man declared dead by doctors was found alive during his cremation. Tragically, he passed away again 12 hours later while undergoing treatment at SMS Hospital in Jaipur.

The youth, identified as Rohitash, was an orphan residing at the Maa Sewa Sansthan shelter home in Bagad, Jhunjhunu district. On Thursday afternoon, he fell ill and was admitted to the emergency ward of Bhagwan Das Khetan (BDK) Hospital, the largest government hospital in the district. Within minutes of his arrival, doctors declared him dead and sent his body to the mortuary, where it was kept in a deep freezer for two hours.

At around 5 PM, as preparations for his final rites were underway at the crematorium, those present were stunned to see movement in his body. Realizing he was alive, they immediately rushed him back to BDK Hospital. From there, he was referred to SMS Hospital in Jaipur for advanced care. Despite medical efforts, Rohitash passed away 12 hours later.

Following the incident, the district administration suspended three doctors from BDK Hospital, citing gross negligence. They are Dr Yogesh Kumar Jakhar, who was the first to see the patient in the emergency and the one who declared him dead.

The other doctor was Dr Navneet Meel, who completed the formalities of post mortem of the patient while he was still alive. After that Rohitash was handed over to the committee members declaring him dead.

The third doctor in the incident was Dr Sandeep Pachar who is the PMO and dermatologist of BDK Hospital. Sources say he suppressed the matter till late night.

No senior officer was even informed. The collector said that such a big incident happened but the PMO did not feel to need to inform him. He was informed by the SP.

Adding fuel to the controversy, new protests erupted on Friday after the suspended doctors were transferred to Barmer and Jaisalmer. Social and political activists from the region objected, arguing that their districts should not be treated as punitive postings for erring officials. They demanded that the guilty be posted in the state capital, Jaipur, instead of being sent to rural areas.

The incident has sparked widespread outrage, drawing attention to the quality of medical care and accountability in government hospitals.

WILD LIFE

In a 1st, radio collar put on elephant in Bandhavgarh

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

IN a first in Madhya Pradesh, a wild elephant, which accidentally trampled a man to death in Shahdol district in March, has been radio collared before being freed into the forests again. The elephant was rescued by the staff of Bandhavgarh Tiger Reserve (BTR) and housed at the reserve's Elephant Camp along with others.

"We've successfully collared the concerned wild elephant on November 20 before releasing it again in the wild. This is the first time an elephant has been radio collared in Madhya Pradesh. It will help us meticulously monitor and study ecology, track its movement, behaviour and home range," Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forest-Wildlife L Krishnamurthy told this newspaper on Friday.

According to BTR Field Director Anupam Sahai, the male elephant (aged between 12 and 15 years) after being radio collared on November 20 has been released in Damna jungles of the Tala Range and is being monitored. "In the first two days only, it has started associating with another male elephant (possibly of the same age), which too is moving alone, after getting separated from its herd," Sahai added.

The move assumes significance as it happened within three weeks of the death of 10 wild elephants in the jungles of the BTR.

9 held in Assam for attack on Royal Bengal tigress

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

NINE people have been arrested for attacking a Royal Bengal Tigress with stones and sticks, almost blinding it. The incident occurred in central Assam's Nagaon. The police said that the accused were arrested during raids carried out at their houses on Thursday night. The accused were identified from videos of the incident.

"A case was registered based on an FIR lodged by a forest ranger who had also shared videos. We arrested nine individuals seen in the videos. Actions will be taken against them," a police officer told the media. He said that investigation was on and more people would be arrested.

The three-year-old big cat had strayed out of the Kamakhya Reserve Forest on November 18 morning, prompting authorities to impose prohibitory orders under Section 163 of BNSS between Debasatra and Miribheti villages.

In an order, Liza Talukdar, ADM of Kaliabor co-district, said the tiger was seen moving on the bank of the Kollong River between Debasatra Gaon and Miribheti Gaon, posing significant threat to human life. The order said that the prohibitory orders were issued to curb the unnecessary movement of people in the said area in the interest of safety of human life. "Entry and movement of any person is strictly prohibited in the area," the order stated.

Blinded in one eye

- The injured tigress was rescued from near a railway bridge on November 20 and sent to the Centre for Wildlife Rehabilitation & Conservation near Kaziranga National Park
- The forest dept fears that the animal has been blinded in one eye and has sought help of ophthalmologist from veterinary college
- The incident has ruffled the feathers of animal lovers

Ukraine parliament shut amid attack threat

Kyiv sees increased risk of Russian strikes on government buildings in coming days; NATO-Ukraine meet next week

KYIV

UKRAINE'S parliament cancelled a session on Friday as security was tightened after Russia deployed a new ballistic missile that threatens to escalate the nearly three-year war.

NATO and Ukraine will hold emergency talks next Tuesday, the alliance said, following a request from Ukraine. The meeting will be held at the level of ambassadors and will most likely address the new missile threat.

Russian troops also struck Sumy with Shahed drones overnight, killing two people and injuring 12 more, the regional administration said Friday morning. The attack targeted a residential district of the city.

Ukraine's Suspilne media, quoting Sumy regional head Volodymyr Artiukh, said the Russians used Shaheds stuffed with shrapnel elements for the first time in the region. "These weapons are used to destroy people, not to destroy objects," said Artiukh, according to Suspilne.

Separately, Czech Foreign Minister Jan Lipavsky arrived on a visit to Kyiv. He posted a photo from Kyiv's railway station on his X account Friday morning.

"I am interested in how the Ukrainians are coping with the bombings, how Czech projects are working on the ground and how to better target international aid in the coming months. I will discuss all of this here," Lipavsky wrote.

Three Ukrainian lawmakers confirmed that the parliamentary session previously scheduled was cancelled due to the ongoing threat of Russian missile attacks targeting government buildings in the city centre.

Not only is the parliament closed, "there was also recommendation to limit the work of all commercial offices and NGOs that remain in that perimeter, and local residents were warned of the increased threat," said lawmaker Mykyta Poturaiev, who added this is not the first time such a threat has been received. AFP

UN REPORTS FIERCE FIGHTING IN SOUTH LEBANON

BEIRUT

ISRAELI troops fought fierce battles with Hezbollah fighters on Friday in different areas in south Lebanon, including a coastal town that is home to the headquarters of United Nations peacekeeping force.

A spokesman for the UN peacekeeping force known as UNIFIL told The Associated Press that they are monitoring 'heavy clashes' in the coastal town of Naqoura and the village of Chamaa to the northeast.UNIFIL's headquarters are located in Naqoura in Lebanon's southern edge close to the border with Israel.

Israeli air strikes hit Hezbollah's south Beirut stronghold on Friday and crumpled an 11-storey building, official media reported and AFP images showed, after Israeli military evacuation warnings.

The latest raids follow intense Israeli attacks in recent days on south Beirut as well as other areas in Lebanon's south and east, where Israel says it has been targeting Iran-backed Hezbollah militants.

WAR WATCH
ISRAEL-GAZA: DAY 413

Israeli strikes on Friday also hit south Lebanon, the National News Agency (NNA) said, as the Israeli military issued warnings for part of the coastal city of Tyre and swathes of nearby areas, as well as several other locations in the country's south.

The state-run NNA said Israeli warplanes launched strikes on two buildings just inside Beirut's southern suburbs, near the centre of the capital.

An AFP photographer captured the moment a missile struck the middle of an 11-storey building housing shops, a gym and apartments, located on a usually busy street in the heavily populated Shiyah district. The impact sparked a fireball and caused the structure to collapse on top of itself, littering the road with debris.

The Israeli military said in a statement its "fighter jets completed a new round of strikes" on Beirut's southern suburbs.

RICH MAKE A 'POOR' $250 BN PER YEAR BY 2035 OFFER

S V KRISHNA CHAITANYA
EXPRESS IN BAKU

THE latest draft text on New Collective Quantified Goal (NCQG) published during COP29 climate talks on Friday, for the first time, included the quantum of climate finance that rich nations are willing to commit, which is $250 billion per year by 2035.

When looking at the climate finance requirement and demand put forth by the Global South, including India, the number provided falls significantly short. India had demanded $1.3 trillion with $600 billion of core (public finance and grant-equivalent). But, the text is completely silent on the grant-equivalent component.

The para 8 of the text says it was decided to set a goal with developed countries taking the lead, to provide $250 billion per year by 2035 for developing countries to undertake climate action. The money will be "from a wide variety of sources, public and private, bilateral and multilateral including alternative sources," the text reads. The proposed amount, seen as a replacement of the $100 billion annual pledge made in 2009 and met only in 2022, is widely regarded as an "insult" given the growing costs of climate adaptation and mitigation.

The negotiating text acknowledged the $1.3 trillion number, but called on all actors to work together to enable the scaling up of financing to developing countries for climate action. It invites developing countries to make further contributions to the $250 billion NCQG goal.

Avinash D Persaud, special advisor on climate change to the President of the Inter-American Development Bank, said: "There is no deal to come out of Baku that will not leave a bad taste in everyone's mouth, but we are within sight of a landing zone for the first time all year. The recognition of needs on the text is vital to give integrity to the system, but the $250 billion commitment to be led by developed countries is short, given adaptation needs alone, and reliance on the hope and prayer of cross-border private sector flows that have so far been negligible will be a point of contention."

COP29

The positive aspect of the draft text is it acknowledges the fiscal constraints and increasing costs to adapt to the adverse effects of climate change and, in this context, acknowledges the need for public and grant-based resources and highly concessional finance, particularly for adaptation and responding to loss and damage in developing countries, especially those that are particularly vulnerable and have significant capacity constraints, such as the least developed countries and small island developing States (SIDS).

Imran Khan's trouble began after Saudi visit, says wife

ISLAMABAD

IMRAN Khan's wife Bushra Bibi has said the now jailed former prime minister's troubles began following a trip to Saudi Arabia, her remarks triggering a row on Friday for apparently criticising a friendly country.

Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Ishaq Dar and former army chief Qamar Javed Bajwa flayed Bushra Bibi over her video clip posted on X. Bushra Bibi, in the video statement on Thursday, said Khan's problems began when he visited Medina and was seen coming out of his plane without shoes.

She claimed the then army chief Qamar Javed Bajwa received calls after the incident. "Soon after Khan's return, Bajwa started getting calls 'Ye tum kya utha key laa aaye ho (whom have you brought)? We are ending the Sharia system in this country and you have brought promoters of Sharia'," she said referring to Khan's September 2018 visit.

The video was meant for motivating supporters of Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party to join the protest on Sunday at Islamabad but instead kicked up a controversy due to the indirect reference towards Saudi Arabia's alleged role in his ouster from power.

Saudi Arabia and China have been two of Pakistan's biggest supporters helping it tide over the economic crisis.

However, in the 9.27 minutes video, which is also available on PTI's official X handle, Bushra Biwi did not name any country. Khan, 72, has been implicated in dozens of cases since his government was dismissed through a no-confidence motion in 2022. PTI

MAN EXECUTED FOR DRUG TRAFFICKING

Singapore on Friday hanged a 55-year-old man for drug trafficking, its narcotics enforcement agency said, the city-state's third execution in a week as the United Nations called for a halt. The UN and rights groups say capital punishment has no proven deterrent effect and have called for it to be abolished, but Singaporean officials insist it has helped make the country one of Asia's safest. Singapore's Central Narcotics Bureau (CNB) said the death sentence was carried out for Rosman Abdullah, convicted of trafficking 57.43 grams (2.03 ounces) of heroin

INDONESIA

GOVT TO RETIRE ALL FOSSIL FUEL PLANTS IN 15 YRS

Indonesian President Prabowo Subianto has announced that his government plans to retire all coal and other fossil fuel-power plants while drastically boosting the country's renewable energy capacity in the next 15 years. "Indonesia is rich in geothermal resources, and we plan to phase out coal-fired and all fossil-fuelled power plants within the next 15 years. Our plan includes building over 75 gigawatts of renewable energy capacity during this time," Subianto said. Subianto also said he was 'optimistic' Indonesia would achieve net zero emissions by 2050

Trump picks loyalist Pam Bondi for AG after Matt Gaetz withdraws

WASHINGTON

US President-elect Donald Trump said on Thursday he will nominate former Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi to lead the Justice Department, turning to a longtime ally after his first choice, Matt Gaetz, withdrew his name from consideration amid scrutiny over sex trafficking allegations.

Bondi has been an outspoken defender of Trump. She was one of his lawyers during his first impeachment trial, when he was accused — but not convicted — of abusing his power as he tried to condition US military assistance to Ukraine on that country investigating then-former Vice President Joe Biden. And she was among a group of Republicans who showed up to support Trump at his New York hush money criminal trial that ended in May with a conviction on 34 felony counts. "For too long, the partisan Department of Justice has been weaponized against me and other Republicans - Not anymore," Trump said in a social media post. "Pam will refocus the DOJ to its intended purpose of fighting Crime, and Making America Safe Again."

Pam Bondi

Gaetz stepped aside amid continued fallout over a federal sex trafficking investigation that cast doubt on his ability to be confirmed as the nation's chief federal law enforcement officer. Gaetz's vehemently denied the allegations, but his nomination stunned many career lawyers inside the Justice Department. Gaetz, who passed the bar but barely worked as a lawyer, had very little relevant experience for the job. Bondi comes with years of legal work under her belt and that other trait Trump prizes above all: loyalty.

The hasty withdrawal by Gaetz and quick pivot to Bondi were the latest examples of Trump's tumultuous decision-making as he rushes out nominations — some of questionable character and credentials — at a breakneck pace without the government vetting that is typical of presidential transitions. AP

IPO-bound Zepto bags $350 mn from domestic investors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

QUICK commerce start-up Zepto has raised $350 million in its latest round, which included investments from Indian HNIs, family offices, and leading financial institutions at a flat valuation of $5 billion. The fundraise was led exclusively by Motilal Oswal's Private Wealth division.

This fundraise also saw participation from family offices and investors such as Motilal Oswal AMC and Raamdeo Agarwal, the Taparia Family Office, Mankind Pharma Family Office, RP Sanjiv Goenka Group, Cello Family Office, Haldiram Snacks Family Office, Sekhsaria Family Office, Kalyan Family Office, Happy Forgings Family Office, Mothers Recipe Family Office (Desai Brothers), Abhishek Bachchan and Sachin Tendulkar, among others.

Earlier, TNIE reported that Zepto is planning to raise funds by the end of November and that the round will include HNIs and family offices.

Aadit Palicha, chief executive officer and co-founder at Zepto, said, "When we started this venture, the risk appetite among domestic investors was limited—especially to trust 18-year-olds with their money. Today, we are humbled to have reached a place in India's economic growth where we've not only fostered that trust but also spearheaded a fundraise of this magnitude, which will hopefully set a precedent for the startups that follow."

This funding comes at a time when the country's economy is accelerating its shift toward domestically driven growth. Founded in 2021 by Stanford University dropouts, Aadit Palicha and Kaivalya Vohra, this fundraising comes just three months after it raised $340 million.

Zepto, which is ready to go public soon, in July raised $665 million at a $3.6 billion valuation, more than double from its last valuation. Zepto had said in July that in terms of business performance, its GMV has multiplied YoY to a base of $1 billion+, and about 75% of the company's stores are fully EBITDA positive as of May 2024.

Many quick commerce companies are now investing with an aim to expand its dark stores. While the q-commerce market is projected to grow significantly, RedSeer expects a 15x jump in India alone by 2025.

Mkt sees biggest single-day gain in 5 months

Market experts attribute the rally to expectations of BJP-led Mahayuti victory in Maharashtra assembly election

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

AFTER two months of intense selling pressure, domestic equity market staged a significant rally on Friday, with benchmark indices BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty 50 surging about 2.5% each—their highest single-day gain in nearly five months. The Sensex soared over 2,000 points intraday, while the Nifty climbed more than 600 points as investors rushed to buy heavyweight stocks like Reliance, Infosys, TCS, and SBI.

Market experts attribute the rally to expectations of a BJP-led Mahayuti victory in the Maharashtra assembly election, with results for Maharashtra and Jharkhand set to be announced on Saturday. A recovery in Adani Group shares, which had plunged by up to 23% on Thursday following bribery allegations, also helped boost market sentiment.

Sensex soared over 2,000 points intraday. Nifty rose over 600 points as investors bought heavyweights TCS, and SBI

The Sensex closed 1,961 points, or 2.54%, higher at 79,117.11, while the Nifty 50 ended 557 points, or 2.39%, higher at 23,907.25. IT and realty outperformed, rising over 3% each, while broader indices participated but lagged the benchmarks. The BSE Midcap and BSE Smallcap indices rose 1.266 and 0.90%, respectively.

The market capitalisation (of all BSE-listed firms surged to ₹432.6 lakh crore from ₹425.4 lakh crore in the previous session, making investors wealthier by ₹7.2 lakh crore on Friday. Prashanth Tapse, Senior VP (Research), Mehta Equities said that the exit polls hinting at BJP winning in both states (Maharashtra and Jharkhand) seemed to have boosted investors' sentiment in a big way and shrugged off the alleged bribery charges against the Adani group.

"Also, many of the stocks are now looking relatively attractive, especially after the relentless selloff over past few weeks due to dismal Q2 earnings and unabated FII fund outflows, and hence the reversal of trend," added Mehta.

Ajit Mishra – SVP of Research, Religare Broking said that the state election results could influence the market's direction on Monday, especially in the early hours. He added that the Nifty is nearing its immediate resistance at the 20 DEMA around 24,050.

"A decisive breakout could push it toward 24,350, but failure may trigger profit booking. Traders should maintain a stock-specific approach, focusing on IT and banking, which exhibit stronger momentum, while being selective in other sectors," he said.

State Bank of India, Bajaj Finance and Titan were among the top gainers in the Nifty 50 index. Only one stock - Bajaj Auto - closed in the red in the 50-share pack. Among sectors, Nifty IT, Realty, PSU Bank, Oil & Gas and FMCG indices jumped 2 to 3%. Only Nifty Media settled in the red.

PAG picks majority stake in Manjushree Technopark

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

PAG, a Hong Kong based alternative investment firm, has reportedly bought a majority stake in Bengaluru-based rigid plastic packaging player Manjushree Technopack from US private equity firm Advent International, according to foreign media reports. The deal has been signed for an enterprise value of close to $1 billion.

Advent invested in Manjushree Technopack in 2018. The US-based PE fund was looking for an exit from the company through an initial public offer. But now with PAG picking up a majority stake in Manjushree, the future of the IPO looks bleak. Manjushree had filed its ₹3,000 crore IPO application to the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) in August.

Manjushree IPO unlikely

Advent invested in Manjushree in 2018. The US-based PE fund was looking for an exit from the company via IPO. Now with PAG picking up a stake in Manjushree, future of the IPO looks bleak

Founded in 1983, Manjushree has 21 locations across India, with its headquarters in Bengaluru, according to Advent's website.

It is India's largest rigid plastic packaging company, with 23 manufacturing plants and more than 50 patents and designs.

PAG is an alternative investment firm focused on APAC with three core strategies: Credit & Markets, Private Equity, and Real Assets. It has deployed over $1.7 billion out of its private equity funds in India since setting up a local office in 2019.

It has more than 370 investment professionals in 15 key offices globally, and over $55 billion in assets under management.

Consumer durables makers to see growth

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

DRIVEN by easy financing options and premiumisation drivers will boost the revenue of consumer durables manufacturers 11-12% this fiscal, continuing the healthy run after a strong 13% growth last fiscal, says a report.

Festive spending, along with strong growth in housing sales, should also support overall volumes, following strong demand for refrigeration products during the summer season this fiscal, Crisil Ratings said in a report on Friday.

Led by premiumisation, better operating leverage and stable raw material prices, operating margins will improve to 6.8-7% this fiscal, from 6.5% last fiscal, but will remain below pre-pandemic highs owing to intense competition.

While, total capex will remain similar to that incurred last fiscal, consumer durable makers will invest on introducing new features that offer differentiated value proposition to consumers. Strong cash generation and healthy liquid surplus will keep reliance on external debt low, supporting the credit profiles of players, notes the report based on the study of eight consumer durables makers, accounting for 55-60% market share in value terms.

As per Shounak Chakravarty, a director with the agency, increasing adoption of easy financing options like no-cost EMIs, credit card loans and buy-now-pay-later schemes are making high-value premium purchases more affordable and accessible. Loans under this category expected to grow 18-20% this fiscal, after having almost doubled over last four years.

Binny Bansal steps down from PhonePe Board

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

FLIPKART'S co-founder Binny Bansal has stepped down from PhonePe board, the payments company announced on Friday. This comes nearly 10 months after he exited Flipkart board. Bansal acquired PhonePe in 2016 and has been on its board since then. He still owns 1% of PhonePe, and is the largest individual minority shareholder.

PhonePe announced the appointment of Manish Sabharwal as an independent director and Chair of its Audit Committee. Manish is Vice-Chairman of staffing and human capital firm Teamlease Services. He will be instrumental in upholding the integrity and effectiveness of PhonePe's financial reporting, internal controls, and risk management practices, the Bengaluru-based fintech firm said.

Sameer Nigam, CEO and founder of PhonePe, said, "Binny Bansal's engagement, strategic guidance, and personal mentorship have profoundly enriched our discussions. Binny will be missed!"

He said Sabharwal has an incredible depth of understanding of India's macro economy. "Coupled with his leadership in shaping India's policies for education, employment, and employability will be invaluable as PhonePe continues to work ahead towards our shared vision of a Viksit Bharat by 2047," he added. Bansal exited Flipkart that he co-founded in 2007. He was holding 1.75% stake in Flipkart in 2022 and he exited by selling it to Walmart. In December 2022, PhonePe separated from Flipkart. Earlier this year, Bansal launched his new venture OppDoor, a B2B platform.

With 575 million users and a digital payments acceptance network of 40 million merchants, PhonePe processes 300 million daily transactions with an annualised total payment value (TPV) of $1.8 trillion. Recently, it announced it has hit 6.4 million ratings on Apple App Store in India. This made PhonePe first Indian company to surpass the likes of YouTube, Instagram and WhatsApp.

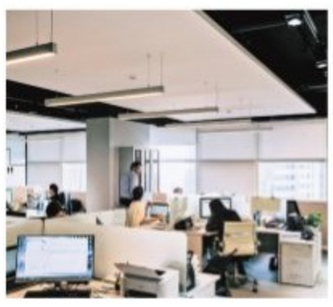
Pvt sector performs better on new biz gains, higher exports; sees record hiring

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

NEW business gains and higher exports helped the private sector to perform better in November leading to the composite purchasing managers index rise in the month to 59.5, a flash survey has showed amid rising inflation pressures.

The month saw accelerated job creation and services sector growth, yet inflation surging to near 14-month high in October at 6.21%. Services sector hiring is the highest since 2005.

"The flash composite output index rose from a final reading of 59.1 in October to 59.5 in November, indicating a sharp expansion that was the strongest in three months and above its long-run average," HSBC India said on Friday.



The index combines performance in manufacturing and services sector and is based on the survey conducted among 400 manufacturing and 400 services providers. The seasonally adjusted index measures the month-on-month change in the combined output of the manufacturing and services sectors.

"Growth ticked lower in the manufacturing industry while picking up in services, though the former has outperformed again," the survey said. While flash services PMI rose to 59.2 in November as against 58.5 in October, manufacturing PMI was 57.3 as against 57.5.

"Strong end-demand and improving business conditions pushed services sector employment to the highest level ever recorded by this indicator since December 2005. Meanwhile, price pressures are rising for raw materials used by manufacturers, as well as food and wage costs in the services space," said Pranjul Bhandari, chief economist at HSBC India.

UPGRADES 2024 GROWTH FORECAST TO 3.5%

Singapore on Friday upgrade its economic growth forecast for 2024 to 3.5%, which is above the range of its previous prediction. The Ministry of Trade and Industry (MTI) had in August narrowed the gross domestic product (GDP) growth forecast to 2-3%. MTI upgraded the 2024 forecast after taking into account the 'better-than-expected performance' of the Singapore economy in the first three quarters of the year, as well as the latest global and domestic situations. For the first three quarters, GDP growth averaged 3.8% as against same period a year ago. The ministry is expecting Singapore's 2025 GDP growth to come in between 1% and 3%. The economy grew 5.4% in Q3, 2024, up from the advanced estimates of 4.1%. Overall external demand outlook is expected to remain resilient for the rest of 2024, said the ministry.

JAPAN

FACTORY ACTIVITY FALLS IN NOV ON SLUGGISH DEMAND

The factory activity in slowed down for the fifth straight month in November on account of sluggish demand caused by worries over China's economic slowdown and persistent cost pressures, a private-sector survey showed on Friday. The au Jibun Bank flash Japan manufacturing purchasing managers' index (PMI) fell slightly to 49.0 in November from 49.2 in October. The index stayed below the 50.0 threshold separating growth from contraction for a fifth straight month. The subindex for output contracted for the third straight month in November and that of new orders also shrank for the month, staying below the 50.0 threshold since June last year. Manufacturers also reduced employment for the first time since February, the survey found. Input inflation remained high in November though price growth slowed to a seven-month low, while the rate of output prices grew to the strongest since July.

CHINA

LAUNCHES PLAN TO TRUMP-PROOF EXPORTS

China has unveiled new policies to support its export sector as it braces for potential tariff increases by US President-elect Donald Trump. The newly elected US President had threatened to raise duties on Chinese goods by 60%. The measures aim to help exporters navigate "unreasonable foreign trade restrictions" and foster a "good external environment for exports." The announcement comes amid concerns in Beijing over the impact of Trump's trade policies, which could significantly affect the profitability of Chinese exports. The plan includes expanded export credit insurance, additional financing for international trade businesses, and strengthened cross-border e-commerce, according to the South China Morning Post. The Commerce Ministry said it would also expand visa-free entry policies to facilitate personnel exchanges and continue efforts to stabilise foreign trade amid growing global trade tensions.

NTPC Green IPO subscribed 2.39 times on final day bid

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE initial public offer (IPO) of state-run NTPC Green Energy was subscribed 2.39 times on final day of the subscription period, with the retail investor portion being booked 3.35 times.

As per BSE data, the share sale received bids for 141,98,33,424 shares against 59,31,67,575 shares on offer. The three-day subscription for the IPO opened on November 19 and closed on November 22. The Qualified Institutional Buyers (QIB) portion was subscribed 3.32 times, while the shareholder portion was subscribed 1.56 times. The employee portion was subscribed 78%. The initial share sale consists entirely of a fresh issuance of equity shares, with no offer-for-sale (OFS) component. The issue has a price band of Rs 102-108 per share.

However, NTPC Green Energy's grey market premium (GMP) has been steadily declining since the IPO's launch. The GMP saw a sharp drop, from ₹3 on the first day to ₹0.80 on the second day.

Bitcoin nears $100k mark; 60% increase since US election day

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

THERE has been a surge in market confidence since the US Election Day, and now Bitcoin inches closer to $100,000 mark. Experts said this optimism will continue and that institutional interest is also gaining momentum.

"With a more than 60% increase since US Election Day, Bitcoin's rise is fuelled by growing anticipation that the incoming Trump administration will ease regulatory hurdles and create a more favourable environment for digital assets. This optimism is reflected in the broader crypto market, which has added over $800 billion in value since Trump's victory, signalling a bullish outlook for Bitcoin and the entire sector," said Sumit Gupta, co-founder, CoinDCX.

Bitcoin surged to an all-time high, surpassing $99,000, and analysts predict that the $100k mark will be achieved by the end of November itself.

"Since the recent US election, Bitcoin has been consistently setting new records, encouraged by expectations of a more supportive regulatory framework and a potential national Bitcoin reserve; that can legitimise Bitcoin as a government-backed asset. BlackRock's Bitcoin ETF debuting options trading on Nasdaq is a big sign of increasing crypto adoption," said Balaji Srihari, Business Head, CoinSwitch.

"Adding to the momentum are the speculations that Microsoft might incorporate Bitcoin into its treasury—a move that would further solidify institutional confidence. However, amid the excitement, traders should stay cautious. Big price jumps often lead to sharp corrections, and using too much leverage could amplify risks during volatile periods," he added.

What will happen if Bitcoin breaks through the $100k mark? Gracy Chen, CEO at Bitget said reaching $100,000 could act as a psychological barrier where investors might reassess their positions, leading to a natural sell-off point, as seen in other asset classes when significant round numbers are breached.

Despite the rally, Bitcoin's market dominance has dipped, which signals growing strength in altcoins like Ethereum, Doge, Solana and XRP jumping up to 25% in a day.

"BTC now faces critical resistance at $99,950 before breaking into the six-figure territory, with strong support holding at $95,000," said Edul Patel, co-founder and CEO of Mudrex.

BUMRAH CASTS SPELL ON OZ

Stand-in captain's inspiring show (4/17) puts India in command on Day 1 after early collapse

GOMESH S @ Chennai

AT approximately 12.35 PM IST on Friday, when Usman Khawaja ran back to catch Nitish K Reddy out for 41 in The Perth Stadium, every Indian fan — whether they are watching from the stands or glued on to television/mobile screens — would have let out a sigh of frustration.

Every possible nightmare scenario they would have imagined before going to sleep on the eve of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy had come true. India, led by stand-in captain Jasprit Bumrah, opted to bat first on a pitch with ample grass cover and had been bowled out for 150 in less than 50 overs (49.4). As many as seven batters had gotten out in single digits. Yashasvi Jaiswal's expected struggles came to light. Virat Kohli was bounced out by Josh Hazlewood. Devdutt Padikkal got out for a 23-ball duck. So much so that, if not for the rescue from Rishabh Pant (37) and Reddy, they would have ended with another double digit total.

As Reddy took the long walk back, many questions lingered. Did India make the right choice by picking Reddy, Washington Sundar and Harshit Rana ahead of R Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja? Was the decision to bat first wrong? The biggest of all, however, was what happens after Bumrah finishes his spell. In less than an hour, the captain, and the best all-format bowler in the world, shattered all the doubts, lifting the spirits of millions of Indian fans.

All it took was four balls for Bumrah to set the tone. Running in from over the wicket, the pacer angled in a length delivery towards Nathan McSweeney which seamed away past the outside edge. Two deliveries later, the ball drifted down the leg and McSweeney tucked it away for four. Bumrah, one over six runs, zero wicket. If the fourth delivery of his first over went down the leg, Bumrah adjusted the line soon. He pitched up a little outside off-stump and the ball seamed into McSweeney hitting him on the front pad. Indians went up immediately but wasn't given out. Bumrah reviewed, and soon blared three reds on the big screen. Bumrah had drawn first blood.

Two balls later, Bumrah caught Marnus Labuschagne on the crease, getting the outside edge only for Kohli to drop it in the slips. Disappointed, Bumrah let out a wry smile. He knew he was in a zone. And the Australians knew it too. He beat Labuschagne's outside edge again, but with no luck. Two overs, 1/7. His third over started with a length ball that the Australian No 3 let go, but soon Bumrah found the pads again. Another loud appeal, but this time they did not review. On the last ball, he almost had Labuschagne with a delivery that rose off length while straightening away from the batter. Three overs, 1/7.

Pressure was piling on Usman Khawaja and Labuschagne. They were not getting any breather from Mohammed Siraj, and perhaps thought playing out Bumrah was the best idea. Their intentions might have been right, but they were up against one of the greatest pacers to have played the game. Bumrah cut Khawaja in half from around the wicket on the first ball of his fourth over before finding the outside edge on the fourth. Australia were two down. India believed. They were just starting to. They needed more. Taking guard was Steve Smith, who despite the poor form could be dangerous if he got going. Bumrah, however, had other ideas. He drew Smith forward with a length delivery that came in a mile, trapping the Australian in front. Bumrah appealed with a big smile knowing what was about to happen. The finger went up and he let out a roar. Smith was out for the first-ball duck only for the second time in his career. Four overs, 3/7. By the time Bumrah finished with his first spell of six overs with 3/9, Rana took over to remove the dangerous Travis Head.

On a pitch that was offering about 0.8 degrees of seam movement according to Himanish Ganjoo (analyst who worked with the Indian team between 2022-24), the debutant had been pitching it short. Soon, he delivered a length ball with wobble seam that sharply seamed into Head, clipping the off-stump. Australia were four down for 31 and India were back in the game. From thereon, Siraj, Rana, along with Bumrah, piled on, reducing the hosts to 67/7 at stumps.

If you were one of those fans who had switched off the television in frustration after India's innings, all you missed was one of the most brilliant spells of pace bowling from Bumrah, who once again showed why he is well above the rest in the world. With the ball in hand, and the mastery of a wizard, he not just delivered but also inspired his fellow teammates to rise to the occasion. But worry not, this is Bumrah. He will do it all over, and maybe even better than what the world witnessed on Friday, soon enough.

Make sure not to take your eyes off the screen until he is done.

Gukesh seeking right moves to reach the promised land

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
TNIE@WORLD CHESS C'SHIP
SINGAPORE

ON a normal December afternoon in the city in 2023, D Gukesh was feeling the weight of the world on his young shoulders. Still only 17, the dark circles around his eyes had betrayed how little sleep he had had over the last few months. In August, when he had overtaken Viswanathan Anand's live Classical Elo rating, he was breathing an air so rarified it was already Everestian in its achievement. In September, he had become the top-ranked Indian on a published FIDE list, a record Anand had held for over 35 years.

Still only a boy but already identified as the prince who would become king. That particular prophecy was facing a lot of headwind three months later, around the time Gukesh had checked into the plush city hotel in December. Those bags under his eyes were worrying. Later that day, as he was preparing to play in the inaugural edition of the Chennai Grand Masters, he would say this period was 'very tough'.

In the cut-throat world of elite Indian chess, being second best and breaking historical records doesn't cut it anymore. You have got to be the best every single day and twice on Sunday. Otherwise, you are in constant danger of being swallowed by the tide. It's just the name of the game. You are either the beast or you are in danger of being consumed by it.

Gukesh knew all of this coming into that Chennai event. It's why he had willingly signed up for a punishing schedule even when he wasn't playing his best chess. He had played in Baku, Dusseldorf, Kolkata, Berlin, Hangzhou, Doha, Douglas and London before that event in Chennai in a little over three months. To put it in perspective, it's like a fast bowler playing five Tests in unfriendly conditions in a 40-day period. He spoke about being under pressure. "There are a lot of thoughts going on in my mind," he had said when he was asked about the presence of other Indian players in the Candidates. Gukesh wanted to be in that tournament but he was on the outside looking in. He needed to win that Chennai event to qualify, for one chance to reach the promised land. "You learn to handle it (pressure)," he had said. Gukesh went on to win that tournament, he qualified for the Candidates, he won that event. In the process, he became the youngest person to win the Candidates. A few months after the Candidates, he led the Indian team to a historic over the board gold at the Olympiad. Now, he has the chance to do something only one Indian has done in over 75 years of FIDE organised World Championships. Win the title.

The one thing Gukesh has already shown is his ability to fight when put under immense pressure. It's what happened in Chennai. It's what defines him as well as sets him apart. Over the next few weeks in Singapore, he will be put under pressure by Ding Liren. Recent history shows he relishes it.

What makes him stand out even among a standout generation? Here's Anand. "As you can imagine," he tells this daily, "it's not any one thing. He's quite versatile, he knows more modern training methods and all that. At the same time, he's someone who's very sincere about developing his skills, his attitude is such that he respects the need to study, he genuinely wants to get better... all the qualities are correct."

While a lot of people close to Gukesh keep pointing out his work ethic, he marries off-the-board hard work with the sort of computation that wouldn't be out of place in some of the most advanced calculators. Both Anand and Carlsen agree to this. "He's not a tactician," the Norwegian told the TakeTakeTake YouTube channel earlier this week. "He's more of a deep calculator, precise calculator." What Carlsen means when he says that is Gukesh thinks and analyses his lines a lot before committing to his moves. For example, when Gukesh makes a move, he has already thought of the opponent's response, his own reply to that and so on. Others, like Carlsen, are more intuitive.

Anand spoke on similar lines. "When I had heard about him (for the first time), he had just become a GM," Anand tells this masthead. "He came and visited me at my house. We discussed a bit of chess. What can you say about somebody who becomes a GM at such a young age? You knew that he was immensely talented. I got to know him a bit better over the years and I realised that, first of all, he's a very good calculator, very hardworking and these kinds of things." It's possible to argue that Gukesh is an outlier even in the modern chess world where young, inexperienced players are placing their tanks in front of the lawns of the experienced players. But does Anand think it's happened way too fast for the compatriot? "No, I'm not surprised by his maturity but it's true that I didn't expect this result so early," he says. "Normally, you don't expect this to happen the first time. You don't expect this to happen any time. All you are thinking is 'when you are playing these Candidates, I have a chance and let's see how it goes'."

The two have of course discussed the title match over the last few months. However, the one constant messaging Anand has left Gukesh is this. "Stay calm, unexpected things will happen." As long as Gukesh manages to control the list of 'unexpected things' in Singapore, the Tiger of Madras, as Anand is known, will have a new joinee in one of the game's most exclusive clubs. Another world champion. There have only been 17 of them.

India U19 women set to play tri-series with SA in Pune

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WITH less than two months to go for the second edition of Under-19 Women's T20 World Cup, Indian are set to play a tri-series featuring India A, B and South Africa early next month (December) in Pune. Having won the inaugural edition in 2023, the defending champions are looking to put a strong squad for the 2025 U19 T20 WC to be played in Malaysia. After the tri-series, India along with five other teams will also participate in the first Women's Under-19 T20 Asia Cup in Malaysia. In 2023, the Indian team, led by Shafali Verma and coached by former India cricketer Nooshin Al Khadeer, beat England to win the first global title for the women's team.

No limit on U19WC appearance

When Rahul Dravid was the coach of the U19 men's team, the BCCI brought in a policy of limiting players to one appearance in the U19 World Cup. It has been in place since 2016 for the men's team.

However, it is understood that the rule will not be applied for the women's team, at least for the time being. Which means, players like G Trisha, Shabnam MD, Parshavi Chopra, and others who took part in the 2023 edition and are still eligible based on playing conditions could be selected if need be.

Rhythm & blues: Satwik-Chirag on song, Lakshya eliminated

ENS @ Chennai

IN their first assignment since the Paris Olympics, ace doubles duo of Chirag Shetty and Satwiksairaj Rankireddy seems to be taking a fresh approach. The Indian duo is operating with a free mind at the moment and that seems to be paying dividends. On Friday, they recorded their third straight win in the ongoing China Masters, thereby ensuring a spot in the semi-finals of the BWF Super 750 tournament.

Facing tricky opponents in the form of Kim Astrup and Anders Skaarup Rasmussen, the second-seeded men's doubles pair from Denmark, the Indian duo played with plenty of poise before carving out a straight-game victory (21-16, 21-19). They always seemed to be in control of the proceedings and despite their opponents displaying some fight in the second game, they maintained their composure to get over the line with relative ease.

The Indians are visibly happy with their run so far. "The last two matches, we got back our rhythm. The first game against the Chinese Taipei opponents was quite dicey, we didn't quite get our rhythm. We lost 21-12, we didn't know what was going on. Slowly and steadily, we started getting into the game and sort of started to get our rhythm. Today (Friday), we were quite at our level," Chirag told BAI after their latest win.

Satwik agreed with his partner and revealed that working with former players, Manu Attri and B Sumeeth Reddy, who has been there by the courtside with them, have been highly productive. "Very much (enjoying). It has been close to three months. There were so many downs after the Olympics for the both of us. Coach Boe (Mathias) also left us. To be honest, the way we were playing, I felt very comfortable. There's no pressure whatsoever. The mindset is very clear, no matter what just go there and enjoy," Satwik said.

Satwik and Chirag next face the South Korean pair of Jin Young and Seo Seung Jae. While the Indian doubles pair had a productive outing, it was a tough day for men's singles ace Lakshya Sen, who was beaten by Anders Antonsen of Denmark. Antonsen outplayed the Indian to win the contest 21-18, 21-15.

Italy set up semifinal clash with Australia

AGENCIES @ Malaga

WORLD No 1 Jannik Sinner triumphed in singles and doubles to help Davis Cup holders Italy beat Argentina 2-1 on Thursday to reach the semifinals. Italy will now face Australia.

Sinner won his first two Grand Slams this season, as well as triumphing at the ATP Finals last week without dropping a set, and blew Sebastian Baez away 6-2, 6-1 after Francisco Cerundolo comfortably beat Lorenzo Musetti 6-4, 6-1 in the opening rubber.

In the decisive doubles battle, Sinner and Matteo Berrettini shaded Andres Molteni and Maximo Gonzalez 6-4, 7-5 to progress. "If they put me on the court in doubles I try my best," said Sinner. "Matteo played unbelievable today, he carried me." Italy booked a third consecutive return to the semifinals and are favourites to win the Davis Cup for a second year running, in no small part because of Sinner's presence.

FOCUS ON CONTENDERS & MANAGER AMORIM

Action in Europe's top leagues resumes after the international break. Here's a look at a few matches from the Premier League this weekend...

ARSENAL VS NOTTINGHAM FOREST | 8:30 PM (SATURDAY)

The Gunners earned just two points in their last four EPL games. With all the top names like Bukayo Saka and Martin Odegaard available, they can't afford yet another slip-up if they are to maintain their title aspirations. Forest have surprised many and are more than capable of causing an upset.

MAN CITY VS TOTTENHAM | 11 PM (SATURDAY)

City would be hoping that manager Pep Guardiola's contract extension until 2027 will act as a boost as the defending champs have toiled in the absence of some key players. Tottenham have also been inconsistent but they are more than capable of hurting any side in the league. City are already five points behind leaders Liverpool and can't afford to go further behind ahead of their trip to Anfield next weekend.

SOUTHAMPTON VS LIVERPOOL | 7:30 PM (SUNDAY)

This is a clash between table-toppers and the bottom-dwellers. Liverpool will be hoping to ride on their current momentum and put the pressure on their rivals. Expect Mo Salah and the rest of the attackers to go all-out. Southampton have often dominated possession without reward on their return to the top-flight and they'll be looking to make it hard for Arne Slot's men.

IPSWICH VS MAN UNITED | 10 PM (SUNDAY)

This is a match that is likely to be followed by many as new manager Ruben Amorim takes charge of Man United. Amorim has plenty of problems to solve at Old Trafford, but begins with United only four points adrift of the top four despite sitting down in 13th. Erik Ten Hag managed just one win from seven away games in all competitions this season and Amorim must find a quick tonic to that travel sickness if he is to make a positive first impression with the United fans.

CONFLICT & CLIMATE DISPLACED

120 MN PEOPLE IN 10 YEARS

The Baku hub in partnership with endorsing countries, UN agencies, global climate funds and MDBs is trying to pilot development projects in conflict-affected regions

WHILE countries are locked in a power tussle over climate finance at the United Nations Climate Conference (COP29) in Baku, the least developed countries, especially those facing constant violence and conflict, are crying in despair with a staggering surge in the number of displaced people. A figure that has nearly doubled in the past decade to exceed 120 million. While the familiar spectre of war and conflict continues to drive millions from their homes, the growing shadow of climate change is becoming an equally potent force of upheaval. For many, the convergence of these crises is inescapable, propelling them from one danger to another.

Take Bahadur Khan, a 60-year-old Afghan refugee whose story exemplifies the grim realities faced by millions. Displaced not once, but three times over the course of his life, Khan's journey began in the early 1990s when Afghanistan's civil war forced him and his family to seek safety in neighbouring Pakistan. The respite was short-lived. In 2010, catastrophic monsoon rains swept through Pakistan, submerging their home and leaving Khan scrambling to protect his family. Twelve years later, another monsoon devastated the region, with floodwaters from the Kabul River destroying what little they had rebuilt. Standing amidst the wreckage, Khan described the night his family was uprooted again. "That night was unforgettable as our house was inundated within minutes. We had no other option but to leave at once," he said.

Khan's story was captured by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) in its report titled "No Escape: On the frontlines of climate change, conflict and forced displacement" released during the COP29.

Khan's story is not unique. The UNHCR report says millions of displaced people are living in host countries that are themselves grappling with the devastating impacts of climate change. From the arid plains of Chad to the flood-prone camps of Bangladesh, displaced communities are often left with no choice but to rebuild their lives in some of the most climate-vulnerable regions in the world.

More than 7,00,000 refugees from Sudan, for example, have sought refuge in Chad—a country plagued by extreme weather patterns, from heavy rains that destroy shelters to sweltering heat that makes daily life almost unbearable. In eastern Chad, where many Sudanese refugees now live, the struggle for survival is compounded by security risks from armed groups and a severe lack of humanitarian aid.

The situation is equally grim for Rohingya refugees in Myanmar's Rakhine State. Already displaced by violence, many have faced further devastation from climate-related disasters like Cyclone Mocha, which struck the region in May 2023. Among the affected was Ma Phyu Ma, who had already been living in an overcrowded camp for internally displaced people since 2012. The cyclone swept away what little her family owned, including the fragile hut that served as their shelter and the nets they used to fish for sustenance. "Every little piece lost was precious to me," she said. "We had very little to begin with. The hut was our shelter. The boat and nets allowed us to fish. The clothes were my source of income. It is painful for me to lose everything."

These stories of loss and resilience are becoming increasingly common as the effects of climate change accelerate. According to recent studies, 90 million forcibly displaced people live in regions with high or extreme exposure to climate-related hazards.

Projections suggest that by 2040, the number of countries facing such hazards will rise from three to 65, with many hosting large displaced populations, including India. Refugee camps and settlements, already struggling with inadequate infrastructure, are predicted to endure twice as many days of extreme heat by 2050, further exacerbating the challenges faced by those who live there.

The Horn of Africa offers another stark illustration of the climate-displacement nexus. Between late 2020 and early 2023, the region experienced a devastating drought followed by torrential rains and flooding. In Somalia, more people reported being displaced by natural disasters than by conflict, a trend that highlights the growing role of climate change in forcing migration. In 2022 alone, over 6,00,000 people fled violence, while 1.3 million were displaced due to the drought—the highest number in over a decade.

Despite the scale of the crisis, global responses have been slow and fragmented. Displaced people are often excluded from decision-making processes that shape their future, with only a fraction of national climate strategies and disaster risk reduction plans explicitly addressing their needs. At the same time, funding gaps remain stark. While billions of dollars are earmarked globally for climate adaptation, the vast majority is spent in middle-income countries, leaving fragile states with a paltry $2 per person annually. This disparity means that the communities least responsible for carbon emissions are bearing the highest costs, often without the resources to adapt.

Recognising these gaps, a new initiative known as the "Baku Call on Climate Action for Peace, Relief, and Recovery" was launched at COP29. Backed by nations from both the Global North and South, the initiative aims to tackle the intertwined challenges of climate change, conflict, and displacement. Central to this effort is the creation of the Baku Climate and Peace Action Hub, which seeks to streamline access to climate finance and technical support for vulnerable nations.

Ambassador Elshad Iskandarov of COP29 Presidency

Speaking to a select group of Indian journalists, Ambassador Elshad Iskandarov of the COP29 Presidency said the initiative builds on established frameworks such as COP27's Climate Responses for Sustaining Peace and COP28's Declaration on Climate, Relief, Recovery, and Peace, while adding practical innovations.

In a conflict-ridden country, global climate funds, multilateral development banks or donors hesitate to infuse money because there is a risk. So, the Baku call seeks to address this by providing a centralised mechanism to coordinate efforts across stakeholders — governments, UN agencies, think tanks and peace-building organisations.

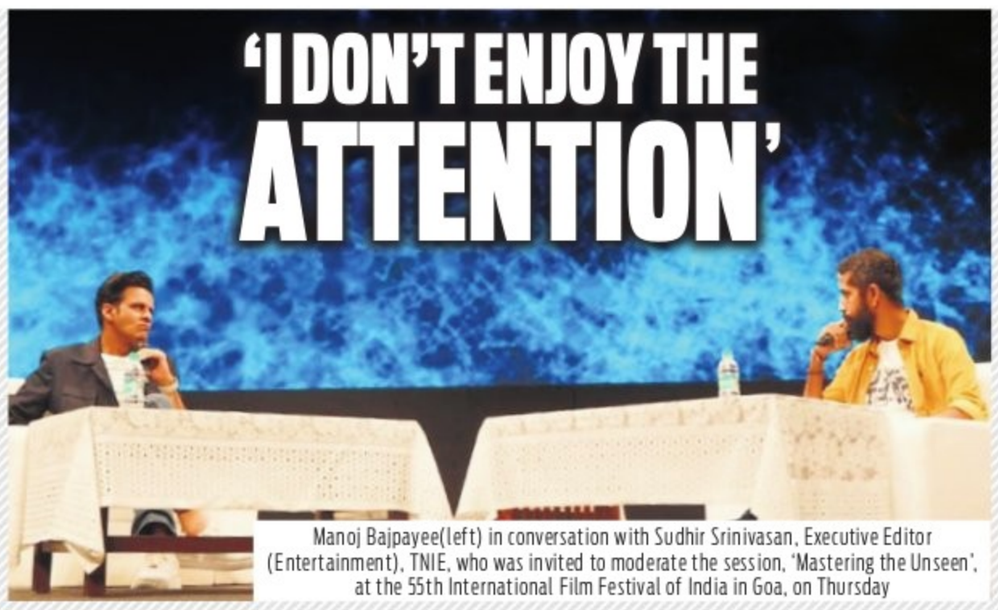
'I DON'T ENJOY THE ATTENTION'



Manoj Bajpayee(left) in conversation with Sudhir Srinivasan, Executive Editor (Entertainment), TNIE, who was invited to moderate the session, 'Mastering the Unseen', at the 55th International Film Festival of India in Goa, on Thursday

A master of silences and a craftsman par excellence, actor Manoj Bajpayee, speaking at IFFI's 'Mastering the Unseen' session, unveils his craft, shares his struggles, and reflects on his enduring love affair with cinema

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

THERE'S a particular pleasure in engaging with a mind like Manoj Bajpayee's – a precision in his responses that doesn't veer into the perfunctory, an introspection that feels inviting. So, when the 55th International Film Festival of India invited me to moderate a conversation with him, it felt like an opportunity to both savour and share. At the session titled 'Mastering the Unseen' at the packed Kala Academy, Bajpayee held forth on the art of acting, his aversion to the trappings of stardom, and his enduring commitment to indie cinema.

He began with dialogue – the lifeblood of cinema, the thread that connects characters and binds stories. "My understanding of dialogue began with an obsession for poetry recitation as a child. That's when I realised every word carries weight, every line holds rhythm and music," he shared. Yet, his confidence was shattered in acting school when a teacher berated him for failing at even the basics, suggesting he showed no understanding of pitch and rhythm. Where others might have resigned in despondency, Bajpayee sought instruction from unlikely sources, embracing every fragment of advice he could find. "One mentor told me to read Sanskrit literature aloud; another helped me see the invisible threads that connect ideas in even the worst scripts. Over time, I have learned that the hardest dialogue to master is silence."

> The joys of acting are worth the cost. I know I'm a more dedicated actor than a parent. I know I'm better on a movie set than at home. Thankfully, my family understands this
>
> Manoj Bajpayee, actor

It is this mastery of silence that Bajpayee wishes was celebrated more. "We see Instagram reels with actors delivering long monologues. But why not share a moment from a film like Bhonsle, where I've tried to say so much without words?" He mused about the challenge of conveying the dialogue within – a task that separates good acting from great. "When there's no dialogue, there's too much dialogue – in the head, in the unspoken glances, in the flickers of emotion. That's when the actor's job begins," Bajpayee mused. "Are you aware of the unspoken? Can you reveal them without saying them?"

Bajpayee's approach to acting mirrors his stoic protagonist in The Family Man, where the boundaries between duty and identity blur. When I asked about the toll of internalising so many characters, his answer carried the weight of personal truth. "Suffering," he said, after a pause. "That's the right word. All my characters live inside me – their bruises, their quirks. I've never been able to cast them out. Perhaps that's why actors like me grow reclusive. We absorb so much, and when the acting stops, we want nothing more than to sit in a corner and observe." For Bajpayee, it's a sacrifice – of identity and self, in a way, but one he embraces willingly.

"The joys of acting are worth the cost. I know I'm a more dedicated actor than a parent. I know I'm better on a movie set than at home. Thankfully, my family understands this."

Bajpayee's journey has been one of constant reinvention. Around the time of Gangs of Wasseypur, he felt trapped by the industry's tendency to offer him 'carbon copies' of his previous roles. He had turned 40 recently and had grown disappointed, waiting for scripts that would allow him to blossom as an actor. Desperate for meaningful work, he decided he wouldn't just wait. Instead, he began seeking out promising directors (from YouTube work), many of whom had no mainstream credentials. "Eventually, I found Kanu Behl, Devashish Makhija, Dipesh Jain, whose Gali Guleiyan remains one of my most challenging roles..." With their help, he discovered parts of himself as an actor he hadn't yet unearthed, parts of himself he always knew existed. That's why his frustration with the current state of indie cinema is so palpable. "Indie cinema seemed to be thriving a few years ago, but now, we have hit rock bottom again. Even OTT platforms aren't as welcoming anymore; weren't they supposed to be the vistas of better cinema? Indie cinema is the lifeblood of the art form. Without it, cinema becomes only a business, and we, as a culture, stop growing." Yet, Bajpayee remains hopeful. "Indie cinema will rise again; it has to."

The tempting roads of stardom have waylaid many a promising actor, but despite mass popularity and acclaim, Bajpayee has shown remarkable resistance to the charms of stardom. "Thank you for noticing that," he said, lighting up. "I love other things too much – like strolling in a market to buy vegetables. That gives me more joy than selfies with strangers. Even for a photo, I don't enjoy the attention or people getting too close to me; even my wife isn't that close!" he joked.

Bending Binaries

Gender Bender, an annual arts showcase exploring questions of gender and sexuality through exhibitions, performances and workshops, is back bigger than ever with events spread over three venues

IN the last few years, conversations around gender, sexuality and the complexities within them have become increasingly mainstream, with many moving away from binary understandings of gender and sexuality. Sandbox Collective's annual arts showcase, Gender Bender, has been platforming artistes exploring questions of gender, sexuality and body politics for a decade now, with the 10th edition of the festival set to go on till November 30 across three venues. "Instead of just cultural institutions which are largely towards Indiranagar, we wanted to engage with smaller places, smaller neighbourhoods, so that there's a diverse audience from the immediate neighbourhood that can access these conversations," says festival director Prerana YSK.

The festival will feature work by artistes, filmmakers, and theatre practitioners from all over India, including a Pahsyntiew (Khasi folk tale) performance by theatre artiste Lapdiang Syiem, a sensorium exploring queerness and fungi by Mycodyke, and a talk by Berlin-based feminist performance collective She She Pop. One of the highlights this year is a community kitchen run by members of the transgender community from Chennai. "People can bring their own ingredients, and cook together. When we cook with people, we end up sharing our lives – we speak about our day and we learn about each other – especially as strangers. So the idea is to facilitate more such conversations between diverse audiences over food," says Prerana.

Every year, Gender Bender gives a grant to 10 artistes exploring questions of gender in different mediums, culminating in a grantee showcase. This year, the festival features two more curated exhibitions on the themes of 'excess' and 'nausea'. "We've invited artistes across India who have an ongoing practice around body politics, from photographs to cyanotypes and paintings, it is across genres and modalities," says Prerana. "Because the grantees come from varied contexts, their modalities are also diverse – some of them do nukkad natak (street play), somebody else does something called technrigged comics, which are comics that are also using technology."

The festival has something for everyone, with two workshops – one on children's literature and another on theatre – specially curated for kids by theatre practitioner Timira Gupta. "We grow up in a society where gender is all around us, from our parents, peers, what we see in films, images and advertisements. But never once does society give us a chance to really sit with 'what does it do?' Instead, we're only consuming conversations about gender," says Prerana.

With this year's Gender Bender, Sandbox Collective hopes to provide a space for honest conversations about gender. Prerana elaborates, "In this day and age, where so many trans and queer activists are fighting for rights, it is a good opportunity for the audience to just be around some of these conversations without any pressure of something academic. Over art and culture, we can learn about each other, and what it really means to be gender non-conforming, trans or queer today, especially in India."

(Gender Bender will take place at 1Shanthi Road Studio/Gallery, Shanti Nagar, and Beru Art Space, Ramamurthy Nagar, till November 24. Bangalore International Centre, Domlur, will host Gender Bender from November 27 to 30. For more information, visit sandboxcollective.org)

A RELATABLE REFLECTION OF THE MIDDLE CLASS AND RESPECT

A SHARADHAA

MARYADE PRASHNE
Director: Nagaraj Somayaji
Cast: Rakesh Adiga, Sunil Roah, Poornachandra Mysoire, Prabhu Mundkur, Shine Shetty, Shravan, Teju Belawadi, Rekha Kudligi, and Nagendra Shah

MARYADE Prashne (Question of Respect) is a vivid exploration of cosmopolitan Bengaluru, a city buzzing with life and diversity, yet marked by an invisible divide between its middle class and elite. This divide runs deeper than its bustling streets and gleaming skyscrapers. At its core, the film is a character-driven narrative that intertwines the lives of three friends handling the complexities of urban existence, each painting a picture of their own aspirations, dreams, and the harsh realities of the middle class. Directed by Nagaraj Somayaji, the film gives the pulse of Bengaluru, placing its various actors in situations that reflect the broader socio-political fabric of the city.

One part of the story revolves around Suri (Rakesh Adiga), Sathisha (Sunil Raoh), and Manja (Poornachandra Mysore)—three friends whose bond has lasted two decades. Each represents a different facet of middle-class life, offering a glimpse into their struggles and ambitions. Suri, driven by political ambition and a desire for change, expresses the frustration and anger of youth facing social inequality. Sathisha, a food delivery worker, grapples with his father's memory loss and his mother's daily hardships, yet remains emotionally connected to his friends. Manja, the cab driver, offers a grounded view of life, navigating the daily grind with quiet resolve. Together, they form a close-knit trio that represents the daily challenges of Bengaluru's working class. Their struggles and friendship are poignantly captured in the song 'Easy Take It Easy', which encapsulates the simplicity and strength of their bond despite the hardships they face.

One touching element is its portrayal of love and human connection in modest circumstances. Lakshmi (Teju Belawadi), Sathisha's sister, is a salesgirl at a mall who endures the pressures of a low-paying job while remaining loyal to her family and love. Her romance with Manja, brought to life through the soulful track 'Naan Ninage', is a tender portrayal of middle class love, one that doesn't seek grandeur but finds solace in small, beautiful moments.

However, the film's tone shifts dramatically when tragedy strikes. Sathisha's untimely death in a road accident marks a turning point, pulling the narrative into darker territory. The focus now shifts to the intrusion of the upper class into the lives of the middle-class protagonists, with the entry of Rocky (Prabhu Mundkur), Shetty (Shine Shetty), PK (Shravan), and Nikhil (Hariharan)—characters who represent the elitist mindset of Bengaluru's wealthy. Their interactions with the middle-class characters expose the deep chasm of disdain between the two worlds. The rich look down upon the working class, often treating them with condescension. The emotional toll this takes is deeply felt by Suri and Manja, with road rage and drunken driving becoming central themes.

As the plot unfolds, the film examines how the middle class is constantly forced to navigate a world that sees them as invisible and expendable. Suri's rage, particularly in the song 'Phirako Maar', captures the intense frustration of being trapped in a system that refuses to recognise the dignity and struggles of the common man. As he continues his fight for justice for his friend, the middle class, despite enduring countless indignities, refuses to bow down—highlighting a crucial theme of Maryade Prashne: money cannot buy respect.

RATING 3.5/5

The film deftly explores the divide between the haves and have-nots, with an unsettling sense of the upper class's obliviousness to the daily battles of the working class. In a climactic moment, when Suri and Manja face humiliation at the hands of the rich, the film raises an important question: What happens when the underprivileged rise against this system? The answer comes in a sudden shift to a more optimistic ending, which may seem abrupt but ultimately reinforces the film's theme of dignity and self-respect.

The performances in Maryade Prashne are central to its impact. Rakesh Adiga, who plays the ambitious Suri, captures the angst of a generation of frustrated youth, while Sunil Raoh brings authenticity to the role of Sathisha, a working-class boy whose aspirations are constrained by his circumstances. Poornachandra Mysore's portrayal of Manja brings us closer to the cab driver's journey. Teju Belawadi's portrayal of Lakshmi offers a nuanced take on the struggles of women in the workforce, especially within the context of Bengaluru's urban economy.

On the other side of the spectrum, the portrayal of the rich is equally effective. Prabhu Mundkur as Rocky perfectly embodies the arrogance and privilege of Bengaluru's upper class, surprising viewers with his role. Shine Shetty provides a chilling contrast to the warmth and humility of the middle class, while Shravan, Hariharan, Rekha Kudligi, Nagendra Shah also play their parts well. Their performances remind us of the societal divide that exists within the city, often hidden beneath the shiny veneer of luxury and success.

Equally, Arjun Ramu's music and songs, along with the Sandeep Valluri's cinematography, make a strong impact in portraying the city's life and road rage, while also highlighting the thin line between the middle class and the elite.

Maryade Prashne is more than just a film about class struggle—it's a study of friendship, ambition, and survival. At its heart, it is a tribute to the middle class, the unsung heroes who keep the wheels of the city turning while never seeking recognition. The film's exploration of road rage, societal apathy, and the dangers of unchecked privilege feels timely, with the issues it raises still very much alive in the city. Its power lies not just in its narrative but in its ability to make us see these issues through the eyes of the people who encounter them daily.

With Pradeepa's production venture at the helm, the film succeeds in showcasing the grit and integrity of the middle class. In a world where dignity and self-respect are sometimes all one has, Maryade Prashne reminds us that no matter how wealthy or powerful the other side may be, no money or recommendation can buy class or humanity.

Maryade Prashne not only entertains but educates, leaving a lasting impression on all who experience it, with a final message of respect.

A slow-burn, predictable lockdown thriller fuelled by extramarital tension

A SHARADHAA

TENANT, directed by Sridhar Shastri, begins as a reflection of the intense 21-day Covid-19 lockdown, a period that tested societal structures and human resilience in myriad ways. While many filmmakers are still grappling with the far-reaching consequences of the pandemic—economic strain, loss, and uncertainty—Sridhar takes a different approach in Tenant. He uses the claustrophobic atmosphere of isolation to tell a story of psychological tension, crime, and moral decay.

The film uses striking colour, particularly red and white tones, to symbolise the emotional states of its characters and the sense of looming danger. Red suggests violence and urgency, while white evokes isolation and emptiness. This visual language enhances the suffocating atmosphere of the lockdown.

TENANT
Director: Sridhar Shastri
Cast: Sonu Gowda, Rakesh Maiya, Dharma Keerthiraj, Tilak Shekar, and Ugramm Manju

At the heart of the story are Kamalesh (Rakesh Maiya) and his wife, Damini (Sonu Gowda), a couple coping with economic strain while managing a troubling tenant (Dharma Keerthiraj) in their Bengaluru home. The confined setting and a slow-burn crime plot create a growing sense of unease. As financial hardship mounts, so does the tension between the couple and their tenant, culminating in a murder that exposes dark secrets. The film explores not just the physical confinement of lockdown, but the psychological prison of guilt, fear, and the uncertainty of a world on edge.

RATING 3/5

What starts as a simple domestic drama evolves into a layered crime thriller. The film gradually reveals the identity of the victim and the motivations behind the crime, offering a deep exploration of the psychological toll of isolation. However, the pacing can feel laboured in the first half, where the drama takes time to gain momentum. Yet, this deliberate progression heightens the eventual payoff, mirroring the suffocating sense of helplessness many felt during the lockdown.

Where Tenant stands out is in its exploration of extramarital affairs and their connection to violent crime. Inspired by a statistic from the National Crime Records Bureau, which reveals that one in ten murders in India are linked to extramarital affairs, the film tackles a societal issue often overlooked in public discourse. In Tenant, the characters' personal lives and hidden desires surface in the wake of the crime.

Extramarital affairs are not merely incidental to the plot; they are central to the suspense and moral conflict. The affair, and the violence that follows, serves as a microcosm of the pandemic. Much like COVID-19, which spread silently before exploding into a global crisis, the emotional contagion of infidelity simmers beneath the surface, culminating in a tragic outburst. Infidelity, with its emotional complexity and its capacity for generating conflict, has become a staple in crime thrillers, reflecting society's growing awareness of the psychological toll of betrayal.

In Tenant, the issue of infidelity is front and centre, adding a layer of social commentary. Extramarital affairs are nothing new in cinema, but director thoughtfully uses Covid as the catalyst. The film not only asks who committed the murder, but why such betrayals happen and how they lead to a breakdown in morality and trust. Contributing to the film's intense atmosphere, with strong performances, is its small cast, including Sonu Gowda, Rakesh Maiya, and Tilak, as well as Dharma Keerthiraj, who surprises in a departure from his usual "chocolate boy" roles. However, some casting choices, like Tilak as the inspector investigating the crime, are predictable, making his involvement somewhat obvious. Similarly, Rakesh Maiya, who often plays the victim, and Sonu Gowda, known for her sharp portrayals, don't bring as much unpredictability as they might have in other roles. That said, their performances still add depth to the narrative, which focuses more on character psychology than on action-driven suspense. Ugramm Manju rounds out the cast effectively.

Tenant is an atmospheric crime thriller that uses the backdrop of the Covid-19 lockdown to explore themes of isolation, guilt, and moral decay. Its deliberate pacing and psychological focus make it a slow-burn film that rewards patience. The film's treatment of extramarital affairs raises broader questions about their role in modern society, making you wonder whether these personal betrayals are like a kind of pandemic, spreading silently until they reach a breaking point. The emotional fallout of infidelity can be just as destructive as any viral disease.

A compelling Abhishek Bachchan powers this meandering film

SHREYAS PANDE

IT is difficult not to be reminded of Shoojit Sircar's earlier films while watching his latest I want to Talk. Emotionally, it exists in the same terrain as Piku (2015) and October (2018), exploring themes of parenthood and death. On occasions, it has the directness of Piku, especially how the protagonist, Arjun Sen (Abhishek Bachchan) is a stubborn and over-protective father, which leads to some conflicted exchanges with his daughter Reya (Ahilya Bamroo). It isn't as consistently crackling nor is it designed to be. Rather, it carries the meditative quality of October in wanting to stay tender and understated which doesn't necessarily work too well in its favor.

I WANT TO TALK
Director: Shoojit Sircar
Cast: Abhishek Bachchan, Ahilya Bamroo, Jayant Kripalani, Johnny Lever, Kristin Goddard

Arjun is a middle-aged, talkative over-achiever who works as a marketeer for an agency in the USA. His daughter visits him for a couple of days during the week and stays for the most part with his estranged ex-wife. He is living the American dream until he cannot. While giving a pitch to a client one day, he coughs blood and discovers that he has cancer. His doctor, Jayanta Deb (Jayant Kripalani) explains the procedure of the throat surgery that Arjun has to go through, leaving him in denial and disarray. His main concern is if he will be able to speak after the surgery. "It is very important that I verbalise everything," he declares.

It is such small fleeting moments that populate the film. Writer Ritesh Shah treats it more like a character study as Arjun's multiple facets are explored through varied scenes, like when his pre-teen daughter asks if she can touch his bald head after chemotherapy and tells him to wear a cap when he drops her to school. Or when she asks him about death while sitting in the backyard of their home. The camera focuses here more on Arjun's face as it shows what it can't say. There are time jumps in the screenplay which are realized with the changing looks of Arjun as he undergoes multiple surgeries over the years. Through all of this however, the film seems to meander along the way. It is as if the mellow aesthetics are unable to carry the burden of its often-complex undercurrents.

RATING 2.5/5

Shoojit focuses more on Arjun's silences as he comes to terms with his changing body and chooses to fight back. Along with cinematographer Avik Mukhopadhyay, Shoojit looks at Arjun from a distance. It is an eye not of pity or empathy, but, just a window into his struggles and frustrations. It works in some of the early portions when Arjun is filmed across the loneliness of his home after he gets to know of the ailment. In some of the later parts, however, it is the persistence of these silent moments that doesn't quite strike a chord. Two back-to-back deaths occur in the second-half which don't grow over you as the characters weren't seen enough earlier for their passing away to create a jolt. Due to this, even a callback to a previous heartfelt scene feels void.

I want to Talk powers on a compelling performance from Abhishek Bachchan. He is present in almost all the frames, evoking Arjun's lively impatience. It is an act that could have easily succumbed to remain only on the physicality of the character. However, Abhishek takes us inside him through his controlled demeanor. His eyes reflect the pain and despair as his body carries the burden of multiple surgeries. He blends himself into the narrative, never letting his performance be seen. Ahilya Bamroo compliments him as the daughter of a broken marriage as she embodies the exasperation of being a teenager with ease. At the same time, a sense of proximity with the characters is missing due to the somberness in the performances. Perhaps, it would have helped to have them pitched a bit differently in some portions so as to underline the subtleties in the writing.

The film begins to feel a bit convoluted in the final act. It doesn't seem to arrive at the wholesome quietude which it promises to. Yet, there's not much left to feel. Everything becomes all the more lateral.

Austin Butler and Edward Berger to star in The Barrier

CE FEATURES

EDWARD Berger, known for helming the critically acclaimed film All Quiet on the Western Front, and Academy Award nominee Austin Butler are set to join hands for the upcoming film The Barrier. Expected to be a time travel thriller, the film, based on a short story by MacMillan Hedges, will be directed by Berger with a script written by Hedges. The film's plot details, however, are currently under wraps. Apart from directing the film, Berger will serve as its producer. Butler is also set to executive produce.

Following the critical and commercial success of All Quiet on the Western Front, which took home four Academy Awards, including Best International Feature Film, Berger is embarking on this next major project. At present, Berger is vying for awards attention with Conclave, a papal thriller featuring Ralph Fiennes, while also developing other upcoming projects, including The Ballad of a Small Player, which will star Colin Farrell and Tilda Swinton.

'ACTING IS THE HARDEST JOB IN THE WORLD'

ON a serious note, he explained his aversion to the isolation that comes with internalising so many characters, that comes with carrying as much fictional baggage. "If I black out my car windows, how will I see the people? Stardom thrives in mystery and secrecy. But for an actor like me, it's important to see people. It's crucial to know their lives. As an actor, I need to be a fly on the wall — present, but invisible."

The conversation turned to physicality in acting. In Joram, Bajpayee's portrayal of a man on the run with a baby is a study in subtlety. "He's a rebel in his youth, but by the time we see him, he's beaten down by life. That weariness had to show in every movement, in his posture." He spoke of Aligarh to illustrate the power of restraint. "I played a gay man, but I didn't want to signal his sexual orientation with exaggerated physicality. Many gay friends move in ways contrary to how cinema often depicts them. It's important to break such stereotypes."

Bajpayee's love affair with cinema began in the dim glow of a theatre, where a young boy sat transfixed by Amitabh Bachchan's Zanjeer. "I've never watched it again," he admitted, "Because I want that first magical memory to remain untouched, unspoiled." His passion has only deepened in the decades since. "I realised in a movie theatre that an individual can become so much more. I fell in love with performances; I am still in love. I have realised that performances must not only entertain people but also represent people and touch them in unusual and profound ways." As a final thought, Bajpayee reflected on the job of acting. "It is the hardest job in the world, but society doesn't think so. In fact, people think anyone can become an actor. An aunty at a wedding will point at her nephew and say, 'Give him a role in your film.' They have no idea of the suffering it entails — or the joy."

As applause thundered through the hall, I found myself verbalising our collective, almost selfish, sadistic wish: that Manoj Bajpayee may continue to torment himself in his pursuit of excellence, so we may bask in the brilliance of his art.
